Measure Now Goes Back To The House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate gave thumping approval today to President Johnson's special request for $415 million more in foreign aid for Viet Nam and other Asian and Latin trouble spots.

The measure now goes back to the House to resolve minor differences between it and a similar bill passed previously by the House.

The main argument against the supplementary foreign aid measure came from Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the chief Capitol Hill critic of administration policies in South Viet Nam and Latin America.

Morse told the Senate he opposes the bill because it "violates in my judgment our system of checks and balances."

However, Morse offered only one amendment to the measure. It was a move to cut in half the $25-million authorization for the Dominican Republic. The aim of his move, Morse said, was to try to bring the Organization of American States into the financing of the Dominican operation and thus to avoid the appearance that the United States is intervening alone. His amendment was crushed 75-7.

Negro Gets Praise From Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials are praising the Negro as a gallant, hard-fighting soldier. New figures show that proportionately more Negroes have died in Viet Nam than military personnel of other races.

One spokesman said the Negro "has shown himself at least as worthy a fighter as the next man."

The Defense Department Wednesday provided figures from what it called a "one-time survey" which showed Negroes suffering a higher number of deaths, proportionately speaking, in the Southeast Asian conflict.

The survey showed that Negroes make up 14.8 per cent of the Army force in Viet Nam, but have suffered 18.3 per cent of the deaths since January 1961.

By the same token, Negroes comprise 8.9 per cent of the Marine total in Viet Nam but have suffered 11.3 per cent of the casualties.

When only enlisted men are counted, the Army's Negro deaths jump to 22.1 per cent of the total casualties, and the Marines' Negro deaths are upped to 12 per cent.

Pentagon officials say they do not consider the number of Negro fatalities high.

Name Beatty Manager Of Cablevision

John L. Beatty of the Show-Me Real Estate Co., has been named manager of the local Cablevision Inc., by the board of directors of the firm which held a meeting in Sedalia Wednesday afternoon.

The board consists of Larry Woods attorney, Noel Martin and Gene Glenn, Columbia businessmen, Larry Hudson and his brother, Cale Hudson, Iola, Kan. Cale Hudson came to Sedalia several months ago to manage the firm, but plans on returning to Iola.

Several weeks ago the majority stock in Cablevision Inc. was purchased by E. W. Thompson and W. C. Cramer. Later they sold a large interest of their holdings to the Columbia group, several Sedalians and a resident of Sweet Springs, and all of the stock held by Thompson, Cramer et al., was placed in a trust with three trustees being named to vote the stock in trust.

The trustees are Woods, Martin and B. D. Simon, Jr., the latter also of Columbia.

Beatty said the Show-Me Real Estate Office would remain in the Bothwell Hotel with his other business interests.

Late Bulletin

NEW YORK (AP) — Major banks increased their minimum lending rate to 5½ per cent from 5 per cent today.

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York initiated the boost. It was quickly followed by Bankers Trust Co. of New York and Mellon National Bank & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh.

Thomas S. Gates, chairman, and John M. Myer Jr., president of Morgan Guaranty, said the increase was "the result of disparities existing between commercial bank and other credit market rates and of a continuing increase in loan demand."

The stock market started losing ground immediately after the announcements.

The most recent previous increase in the prime rate to 5 per cent from 4½ per cent came Dec. 6, a day after the Federal Reserve Board increased to 4½ per cent from 4 per cent its discount rate—the fee Federal Reserve banks charge for loans to member commercial banks.

Luchs Named Chairman For Republicans

Leroy Luchs was elected city Republican committee chairman Wednesday evening at Farm & Home building. His term will be for two years.

An inscribed gavel was presented to David Eisenstein, retiring chairman, by Luchs, in behalf of the committee. Eisenstein extended thanks to his committee members for support during his chairmanship.

Other committee officers elected were: Mrs. Etta Wehrli, vice chairman; Mrs. Lovina Coontz, secretary; Allen L. Hawkins, treasurer.

Appointments made by Luchs included: Jack Cunningham, finance chairman; Melvin Jones, Jr., publicity and advertising chairman, to assist Hawkins, campaign chairman.

Luchs called an executive committee meeting, to coincide with the regular March 23 committee meeting.

Republican candidates were given an opportunity to discuss the ensuing city campaign and Earl Crawford, incumbent city counselor, spoke on that subject.

Satellite Projection

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A satellite which gets its power from the sun could orbit the planet Mars by 1969 and transmit information back to earth, Ronald S. H. Toms, of Electro-Optical Systems, Inc., told a meeting of the Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics.

Move to Lop Amendments On Tax Bill

Phone, Car Tax Restoration Plan In Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a few strides, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell moved from his lofty perch as a chairman questioning Cabinet officers about the antipoverty program to a shouting, face-to-face meeting with the poor.

They were waiting in a big room alongside the hearing room of Powell's House Education and Labor Committee. Powell, a New York Democrat, left John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare, in the witness seat to go talk to them.

They were from Bedford-Stuyvesant and Harlem, Negro areas in Brooklyn and Manhattan, and represented two or three groups which had applied for antipoverty funds. They had been at him earlier about money they wanted from the poverty program and he had promised to come back.

"I've got good news," he cried as he entered the room. "A member of the federal government has just gotten on a plane with a check for $200,000 for the Head Start program in Bedford-Stuyvesant."

They applauded, shouted and crowded around and the ring of policemen in the room moved closer, too.

Powell, the Baptist preacher, took over from Powell, the congressman, and began a talk about the need for dignity and pride in Negroes. "Think big! Think black!" he said, and the crowd responded with claps and rhythmic shouts.

But the revival meeting atmosphere was shattered by a big woman who pushed her way up to Powell and started shouting louder than he.

"What about all these policemen? This is terrible. This is an armed camp. Everywhere we go there are policemen. We're not criminals!"

Before Powell could regain control the room erupted with the angry, urgent voices of the poor, accusing Powell of favoring jobs over community action in the poverty program.

"Jobs aren't a big deal. If industry doesn't open up jobs for a man he still doesn't have anything. We need community action. We need pressure."

"Brother Powell, why don't you stress human rights instead of civil rights? We want to eat."

"What about Mississippi? They don't have clothes to send their kids to school. We got to raise clothes for them."

Beat Back Demonstrators

Protest Wedding In Amsterdam

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP) — Crown Princess Beatrix, the future queen of the Netherlands, married a handsome German diplomat today as 1,000 demonstrators tried to march on the royal palace. Club-swinging police beat them back.

The bridegroom, Claus Von Amberg, 39, grew up under Hitler and as a youth served in the German army. The marriage made him a prince of the Netherlands, entitled him to an annual allowance of $83,000, and changed his name to the Dutch, Van Amberg.

The demonstrators, most of them youths, shouted condemnations of the bridegroom and republican slogans but were about half a mile from the wedding procession through Amsterdam. The police dispersed the crowd as it started to march on the palace.

In the former Jewish quarter flowers were placed at the monument to the wartime resistance movement against the Germans.

Youths also set off smoke-bombs in protest against the marriage.

But thousands of Dutchmen, many waving flags, cheered the 28-year-old "smiling princess" and her bridegroom as the bridal procession moved through Amsterdam.

A simple civil ceremony in Amsterdam's City Hall preceded the glittering church wedding before a gathering of Europe's dwindling royalty.

The traditional marriage oath

"to heed and obey" was omitted from the rites of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Amid the pomp and pageantry a restlessness ran through the Dutch nation, where five years of Nazi wartime occupation left deep scars.

Heart Attack Kills Klansman In Liuzzo Case

BESSEMER, Ala. (AP) — William Orville Eaton, 41, one of three Ku Klux Klansmen charged with the murder in the slaying of civil rights worker Viola Gregg Liuzzo, died of a heart attack today.

Eaton reportedly was stricken at his home early today and was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Eaton and fellow Klansmen Eugene Thomas of Bessemer and Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., of Fairfield, all of the Birmingham area, were convicted by a federal court in Montgomery last fall of conspiracy charges.

They were accused of conspiring to violate the constitutional rights of persons taking part in 1965 voter-rights demonstrations in the Selma-Montgomery area.

They were sentenced to 10 years each. Their attorney said an appeal is planned.

Special Forces Camp Falls to Cong Raiders

Yates Will Head C of C Another Year

Carl Yates, Jr., was re-elected president of the Chamber of Commerce at the board meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the Bothwell Hotel. Other members elected were Dick Monsees, first vice-president, and Dick Fitzwilliam, second vice-president.

Sam E. Boyle was re-appointed secretary - manager for another year. Mrs. Vivian Warren was also retained as office manager. Mrs. Warren is treasurer of the Chamber.

Election of two vice presidents from the directors created a need for two more directors. Directors are always elected by the number of votes received from the membership with the one receiving the largest number being first and on down for the election of seven. When two were removed by election to office or other reasons the next two in line go on as directors. The two are J. C. Griffin, who was re-elected, and W. D. Hill.

The board voted to give the city easement for the sewer project on the land owned by the Chamber to come as close to the drainage ditch as possible, after the need for the easement was explained by Robert Cunningham, city engineer.

Although there have been firms wishing to buy part of the tract of land owned by the Chamber which is the industrial park, the board voted that no part with Highway 50 frontage would be sold as the Chamber wanted to keep the tract of land intact.

Boyle explained that Town and Country Shoes planned to build a new warehouse. The warehouse, he said, had always been in St. Louis, and the lease on (Please turn to page 8, col. 8)

Application On Medicare Eligibility

Bothwell Memorial Hospital has filed application to establish eligibility for the Health Insurance for the Aged Program, commonly referred to as the "Medicare" plan, Hospital Administrator L. Don Feedback said Thursday.

Feedback pointed out, however, that the application in no way obligates the hospital to accept Medicare patients until an agreement is reached with the Social Security Administration.

The eligibility application, Feedback said, is pending at the present time. Needed to get the processing machinery underway is a utilization review plan, on which Bothwell Hospital is currently working.

The application for eligibility requests information on 14 various areas involving the hospital and its administration and staff. The "utilization review plan" is the only area which thus far has not been answered.

The answer, however, is expected as soon as the hospital's staff completes work on organization. A tentative description of the utilization review plan (Please turn to Page 8, Col. 6)

Overwhelmed In Two-Day, Fierce Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Vietnamese regulars overwhelmed the isolated Ashau Special Forces camp tonight after a fierce, two-day fight put up by several hundred mountain tribesmen and their 15 to 20 U.S. advisers.

The commander of the U.S. Special Forces detachment at Da Nang, Lt. Col. Kenneth B. Lacey, pronounced the doom of the garrison which is in the forested hills near the Laotian border. "We closed Ashau at 5:45 p.m. this evening, he said.

Casualties among both the Americans and Montagnard defenders were heavy. But Col. William McKean, commander of Special Forces in the area 360 miles north of Saigon said his men "fought every inch of the way" and he thought the Communist toll was also high.

The Communists took the triangular-shaped fortress after it had been pounded into ruins and flames by Red attack and U.S. planes trying to drive them off. Heavy clouds, at times cutting the ceiling to 200 feet, seriously hindered the American pilots flying in almost over the tree tops.

Until the end the American "Green Berets" and their tough little Montagnard troops clung doggedly to a single bunker on the camp's northern trench line.

The attackers were described as a reinforced North Vietnamese regiment. Originally, they had been thought to be two companies — 200 or so men — of regular Viet Cong troops.

Before the collapse, helicopters flew out "a certain number of defenders," Lacey said. He gave no figures. The camp was defended by 15 to 20 Americans and about 300 Montagnards they had trained.

Three U.S. aircraft — two planes and a helicopter — were lost in the determined effort to save the camp.

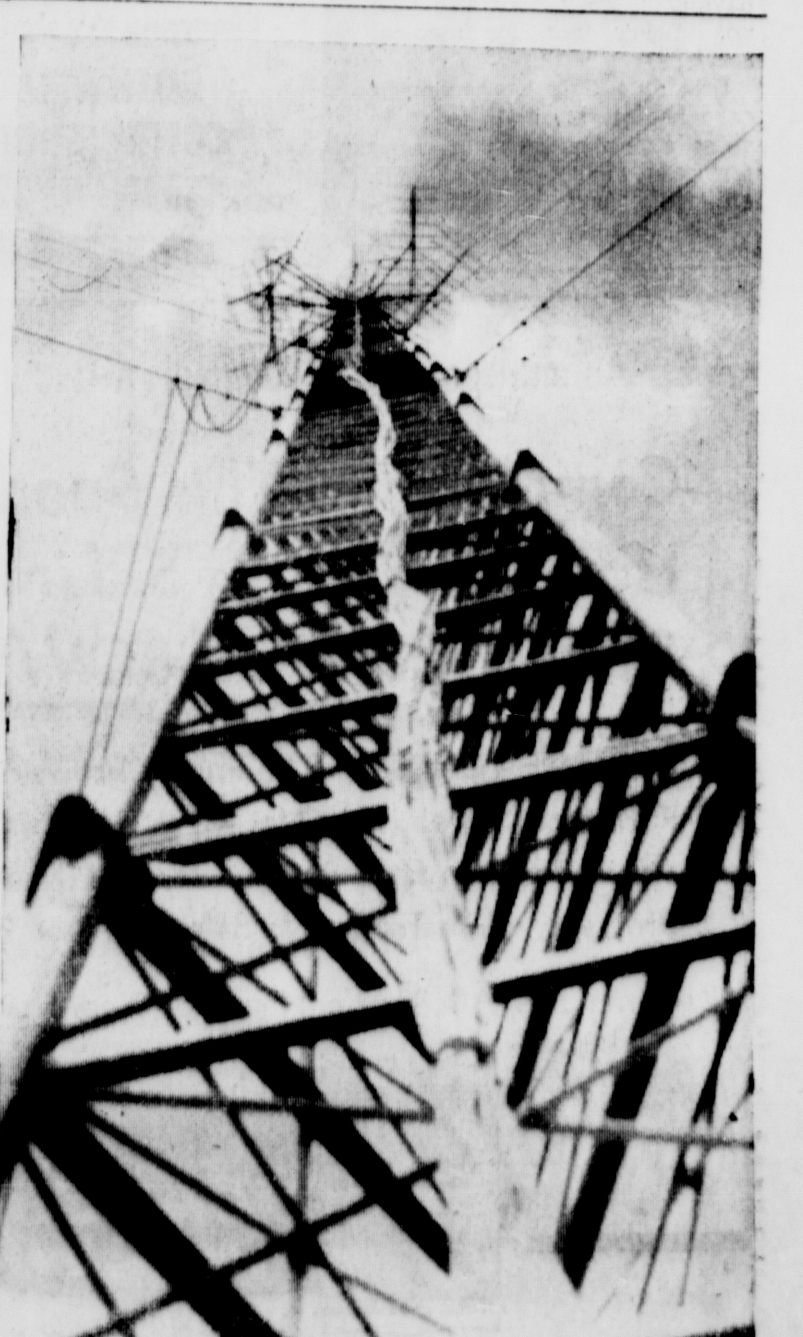

The Communist capture of the camp dominated reports from the fighting zones. Elsewhere in South Viet Nam, the Communists showed little stomach for combating the U.S., Vietnamese and other Allied forces hunting them down.

A flurry of speculation dominated the political scene as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and other members of the ruling military junta met under heavy security at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport.

More to See on TV

SOME 40 SEDALIA homes today are receiving nine TV channels — four more than yesterday — as Community Antenna TV service began operation here. Within two weeks the entire southwest portion of Sedalia is expected to have CATV available. In the photo at left, work progresses on extending the CATV line north adjacent to South Limit avenue. In the picture below, Sedalia Mayor L. L. Studer gets a briefing on the system from Larry Hudson, Cablevision, Inc. official, during inauguration ceremonies Wednesday. In a brief address to some 30 persons on hand for the ceremonies,

Mayor Studer termed the system a vital asset to the city. In the photo at right is a straight upward look at the 340-foot tower located west of Highway 65, a mile south of the city limits. The system was demonstrated to newsmen and the picture reception from distant cities like St. Joseph and Springfield was remarkable. Sets can receive Channel 5, Kansas City, without interfering with Channel 6 (Sedalia) reception. The system also clears up interference often experienced through use of home-owned antennae, particularly in color reception. (Democrat-Capital photos)

CLEDITH PFEIFFER, Sedalia, was selected as finalist to represent this area in the FTD "Designer of the Year" contest following judging of entries at the meeting of florists from this district at the Tiger Hotel in Columbia. Ranking florists from all over the United States and Canada are competing in their home areas to gain the finals of the North American tournament which will be held at the annual convention of Florists Transworld Delivery Association at Pittsburgh, Pa., in August. The winner is now eligible to compete with FTD florists from neighboring states in the sectional semifinals leading to the grand contest this summer. On hand to congratulate the winner was William K. Scofield of Columbia, FTD district chairman.

Lacking Medical Care

Head Start Youngsters Suffer From Many Ailments

EDITOR'S NOTE — U.S. medicine will have an exacting role to perform in the "war on poverty." Vast needs are seen among the millions of poor and old in big city slums and many rural areas. This is the fourth of five articles on American medicine today.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's simply shocking," said a pediatrician in a large Eastern city. "You wonder if some way can't be found to give these kids a better medical break."

"These kids" were 1,442 youngsters, mostly from poor families, enrolled in a Head Start program to prepare them better for entering school.

One-third of them, medical examiners found, had some major medical defect, or emotional problem — or both.

That is one measure of the health needs, mostly unmet, among millions of poor people in big cities and many rural areas, says unmet despite hospital clinics and physicians' donated time.

Various reasons are suggested for the neglect:

That people don't know facilities exist, that there aren't enough facilities, that some people can't find baby-sitters or take time from their jobs, that clinics and services are too fragmented and patients are shunted from place to place, that many have no medical or hospital insurance systems. The charge is even made that "many poor people just don't care."

But when, and if, the sluice gates open to meet their needs, the nation's medical system will be challenged more than ever.

Medicare will bring part of this new testing, since many elderly persons living on limited incomes will be offered hospitalization under Social Security payments. They may also sign up, at low fees, for medical services.

Looking to July 1, when Medicare begins, hospitals in some cities expect a heavy demand for beds and services. Others anticipate only a slight increase, mainly because many beds already are occupied by patients over 65.

More demand for medical services will come.

For Title XIX of the Medicare law calls upon states vastly to expand their programs of health care for all the needy and medically needy in each state, by July 1975, if they are to continue receiving federal money.

Poor health is one root, one anchor, in a vicious cycle of poverty—"without intervention, the poor gets sicker and the sick get poorer," says Dr. H. Jack Geiger of Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

He and Dr. Count D. Gibson Jr., professor of preventive medicine at Tufts, are originators of a novel approach to improve the health of the poor—a program containing seeds for increasing health manpower jobs among the poor themselves.

Sponsored by the medical school, with an initial grant of $1,168,000 in poverty program funds, the program is setting up two community health centers, one in Boston, another to come in a rural Southern area.

The Boston center, at the Columbia Point housing development, is operating. In its first four weeks, 600 children and adults in the housing development came for diagnosis and treatment.

Tufts supplies the small staff of physicians on duty at the health center. The doctors may refer some patients to city hospitals or to specialists, as needed.

This health program is one pilot attempt—aided by a computerized system of keeping records—to determine the real need for health services, what they cost in time, services and money to meet them, Dr. Geiger explains. It may point the way to similar centers in other areas.

There are 6,000 families in the housing project, and one-third of them enrolled in a voluntary health association which helped plan the health center itself. But anyone in the housing project can utilize the health center. No one is charged for visits. Prevention of illness is emphasized.

The association members decided that families should pay $3 a year in membership dues, partly to help equip the center.

"We asked why $3 was decided upon and someone said: 'Because that's the cost of just one taxi-ride in the middle of the night to a hospital emergency room that we won't have to make when a health center is right here.'"

Whatever the outcome of this particular program, the future promises many other changes in medicine.

Next: the promise.

Delinquents Guinea Pigs For Unique Experiments

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a drab, institutional building at the crest of a steep hill commanding the capital city, young delinquents are playing guinea pig for a novel experiment in the psychology of success.

Unlike most reform school inmates, these fellows are free to lay in bed all day, shoot pool (if they have the money) or goof off at will.

But they don't. The psychologists have taken Jefferson Hall at the National Training School for Boys and transformed it into a microcosm of the outside world — where achievement pays off.

For nearly every act of their waking day, the 18 boys — mostly young car thieves — in this federal institution are given points. For each point, they are paid a penny.

Unlike the 200 or so other lads at the reform school, they pay for their rooms, which are private. They pay for their food, their toiletries, their recreation, their books, their decorations, their clothing.

And with staff members of the Institute for Behavioral Research watching carefully, the boys are studying hard, working in their spare time, shooting for "success."

The experiment is being governed by a simple psychological premise that rewards stimulate achievement and success.

Financed by grants from the Departments of Justice and Health, Education and Welfare, the hopes it would develop a curriculum that might be applied to other penal institutions.

"In a sense," Jefferson Hall is a greenhouse," said Harold L. Cohen, director of the experiment. "The training school boy comes from an environment in which the choices of activity were limited and the motivation very low. As a result, many chose the only path open to them — antisocial behavior."

"Here we are trying to design an environment in which the student is motivated by the prospect of an immediate reward, and where he has several choices of activity open to him."

The hitch on the outside, Cohen said, is that rewards — such as a diploma or a promotion — often seem vague and distant.

But points for learning and achievement are awarded immediately at Jefferson Hall, and the weekly paycheck buys many of the same things as the paycheck of a worker on the outside. Eventually, Cohen said, the checks will be gradually delayed to condition the youths to the delays that accompany rewards on the outside.

While a boy may choose to goof off all day, he knows his private room costs $6 a week, or 600 points, as does his basic menu. He knows that if his points fall below 1,200, he will go "on relief" — losing his private room, eating institutional food, wearing institutional clothing, and enjoying no extras.

So he studies and works. None has yet gone on relief. Several have shown dramatic scholastic improvement, for which they are tested frequently and paid in points.

Starting at a base pay of $10 to $15 a week — payable only on achievement of 90 per cent in examinations and a minimum number of hours of work — the youth shoots for even higher grades and more work.

The boys, who are selected at random, are governed by none of the controls imposed on other inmates.

"These young people are not just after points or money," Cohen insisted, "they are hungry for a chance to be right instead of wrong — to be successful."

Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teen-age Canadian girl who loves her country and is very proud of it.

I just returned from a visit with an aunt and uncle who moved from Canada to Nevada last year. I learned from a neighbor girl that they had introduced themselves to everyone in the community as new arrivals from London, England (instead of London, Ontario).

I asked my aunt why they did that and she said, "U.S. citizens look down on Canadians. They think we are peculiar." Then she added, "They consider the English, on the other hand, quite elegant."

I never knew this before and am terribly hurt. Please explain—YOUR NEIGHBOR TO THE NORTH.

Dear Neighbor: Don't judge all U.S. citizens by a few ignoramus. Speaking for myself, I can tell you that I have met many Canadians and I find them refreshingly wholesome and charming—particularly the teen-agers.

Dear Ann Landers: My wife is worrying herself sick over something and I need your help. Yvette (not her real name) has been ill off and on for a long time. Several months ago she went to a doctor who did more for her than all the other doctors put together. Not only is she feeling fine but she is bright and cheerful for the first time in years.

Yvette wanted the doctor to know how grateful she was so she tried to hold his hand and tell him. He suddenly became very cool to her and has been that way ever since. Yvette now realizes that he misunderstood her intentions and she is sick over it.

This doctor is quite youthful and handsome and no doubt many women patients make passes at him. Yvette has never had a loving thought, much less a roving eye. She is an affectionate person who sometimes goes overboard to let people know she appreciates them. How can she get this across to the doctor so he will be friendly again?—UPSET, TOO.

Dear Upset: Yvette could have expressed her appreciation without trying to hold the doctor's hand. Suggest that she restrain herself on future visits. The doctor will become friendlier when she demonstrates by her behavior that she is not after him.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the mother who complained because her miserable neighbor ran over her son's bike in the driveway. The same thing happened to me and I am no miserable neighbor. I'm a pretty decent guy.

I felt bad about wrecking the kid's bike but I was also mighty thankful that it was a bike I had run over and not a small child. When I confronted the parents with pieces of their son's bike they admitted their son had been extremely careless and happily accepted my proposal that we share the cost of a new bike.

I will never again back out without checking behind me. The boy has vowed that he will never again leave his bike in a driveway. So we both learned something.—SECOND CHANCE.

Dear Second Chance: I hope all of us learned something from your letter. Thanks for the education.

18 Percent Increase In Enrollment Noted

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Ken Vickery, admissions director of Clemson University, says students entering U.S. colleges last year represented an 18 per cent increase over 1964 enrollment.

Vickery said the increased enrollment will make it more difficult in the future for students to enroll in colleges in states other than their own.

Lions Hear Of Scouting At Meeting

Scouting and camping was the subject of Martin Mockford, assistant national director of the Camping and Conservation Service, Boy Scouts of America, who spoke to the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday noon. The national officer of the BSA was a visitor in Sedalia and was introduced to the club by William O. "Bill" Hiatt, active scout leader in Sedalia, who was program chairman for the meeting.

Mockford in his talk brought out since the origination of Boy Scouts in the United States, the program and organization now has 830 Scout camps throughout the United States, representing more than 350,000 acres and a conservative estimate is in excess of a million dollars valuation.

"An example, these camps, which are used by millions of boys, have an estimated 'grocery bill' each year of more than nine-million dollars," he said.

During his talk he read an interesting story of how the Russians feel about Boy Scouts of America and the purpose for which this group is organized. He brought out the Communist country feels they are "youth groups" being taught destruction and sabotage, "but we in the United States, know scouting is for the boys to help build character, and rear them to become good citizens of this country," he said.

He spoke on Scout Oath and the Scout Code of Ethics. It is very similar to the Lions Code or other codes of other service clubs. In his talk he compared Scout camps with privately sponsored camps for boys. It costs a Boy Scout $18 to attend a scout camp while if he goes to a private camp the price is $100 and sometimes more. The Lake of the Ozarks Council was recently given 319 acres of land on the Lake of the Ozarks for its own scouting camp, which would benefit many boys in the 11-county area.

Mockford also called attention to a meeting of local organizations for a "Together Plan" to be discussed, along with the scouting program and how it could fit into their institution.

Bob Mills, Lake of the Ozark Council Executive Director, answered questions about the new camp. He explained the camp has been made possible by the nephew of the late Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Hohn, retired educators, who had purchased the property and retired there. Rev. Roland Hohn, of the Wesley Methodist Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, and Dr. Hohn's widow, his second wife, who is an educator also.

Mills explained Mrs. Hohn's interest has been shown by her visiting the place to see that everything is progressing toward an excellent scout camp. "Both Rev. Hohn, the nephew, and Mrs. Hohn, the widow, are deeply interested in the program," Mills explained.

It has been named Hohn Scout Reservation in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Hohn.

The camp is located on Lake Beach and Laurie. Dr. O. J. Durnell, president, presided, and called attention to the program to be held next

Catholic Church Starts Fund To Help Baptist Group Build

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A Roman Catholic church has started a fund to help rebuild a Baptist church destroyed by a tornado here last week.

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Bunker Hill, Ill., which was flattened by a tornado itself 17 years ago, will extend a helping hand to the Woodville Heights Baptist Church.

Wednesday in charge of E. B. Smith, Past-Governor and Cabinet Secretary of Missouri International Lions District 26-G.

Medicare Is Explained To Optimists

Ralph T. Sprague, district manager of the Social Security Administration, was the speaker at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel.

Introduced by Frank Menl, program chairman, Sprague stated that this is the deadline month for those who are 65 to enroll in Medicare, the last day is March 31, and that his office is desperately trying to reach all of those of that age to give them an opportunity to enroll.

To date, he said, 80 per cent have enrolled, but 20 per cent have not responded and they do not know whether they don't want it or just don't know about it. Some are not responsible to act for themselves. Some say "No" when asked, but Sprague pointed out that they feel they owe it to all who are eligible to contact them.

Four contact clerks have been hired for the month, he said. They were given two days' training and then sent out to contact these people and explain Medicare to them.

Sprague said that anyone who is 65 now who does not sign up for Medicare by March 31 will not have another opportunity until 1967, and the next time it will be ten per cent higher. If then, they do not sign in 1967, they will not have another opportunity.

The speaker then explained Medicare and its benefits.

The meeting was presided over by Wray Schroeder, president, and invocation was given by Rev. Charles Hendrickson. Ed Mitchell led the singing with Mrs. Lillian Maynard at the piano.

Mitchell told of the plans for "My Fair Lady" at the Fox Theatre which he said would give the Optimist Boys Work fund a dollar on each ticket sold for the opening night preview which will include prizes and fanfare.

Archias Is Honored By FTD Group

Leon H. Archias, Jr., was presented a gold framed award at the district meeting of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association held in Columbia, March 5, for Archias Floral Co. membership of 50 years in the association. This award is given only to floral companies that have been operated by one family continuously during the 50 years, and Archias is the only one in Missouri to have received the award. There are only three in the district which includes Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Colorado and part of Illinois.

The award reads: "In recognition of 50 years of consistent and meritorious service as a member of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, Archias Floral Company is hereby awarded this signed and sealed certificate this 10th day of August 1965" and is signed by John C. Carasis, president and John L. Bodette, secretary. The presentation was to have been made at the national convention which was held in August in Los Angeles, to which Archias was invited but was unable to attend.

Archias Floral Co., was opened at the present location at Park and Fourth by L. H. Archias, father of Leon Archias, Jr., in 1910. The Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association was founded in 1914 and Archias became a member in 1915. Although he was not a charter member L. H. Archias helped in the organization of the association.

It was 82 years ago that the oratorical contest will be held next Tuesday with Marvin Kueck, chairman, in charge of the program. Wives of members will be special guests.

Gene Cook was introduced as a guest.

Gessner Is Free After Five Years

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — George John Gessner drew his first free breath after five years in government custody and said: "Justice delayed is justice denied."

The 29-year-old former soldier showed no elation at his sudden and unexpected release from the U.S. penitentiary where he has been since his conviction June 4, 1964, of giving nuclear weapons secrets to the Soviet Union. He was the first convicted under the atomic Energy Act.

An appeals court last year nullified Gessner's conviction and life sentence because it found his confession — basis of the government's case — was made involuntarily.

U.S. Atty. Newell George stood before the same three judges Tuesday and declared, "Without the confession we do not have sufficient evidence to go to trial." He filed a motion to dismiss charges against Gessner and a few hours later Gessner was free.

Asked why he had signed the confession, Gessner replied: "Because of continued interrogation month after month and promise of total immunity."

"Of course, it was not true," he said.

"How can a man have plans when he has been locked up five years or better?" said Gessner when asked about his future. "I hope to return to college — if any college will have me." If he does go to school, he said, "It is not my intention to restrict my political opinions."

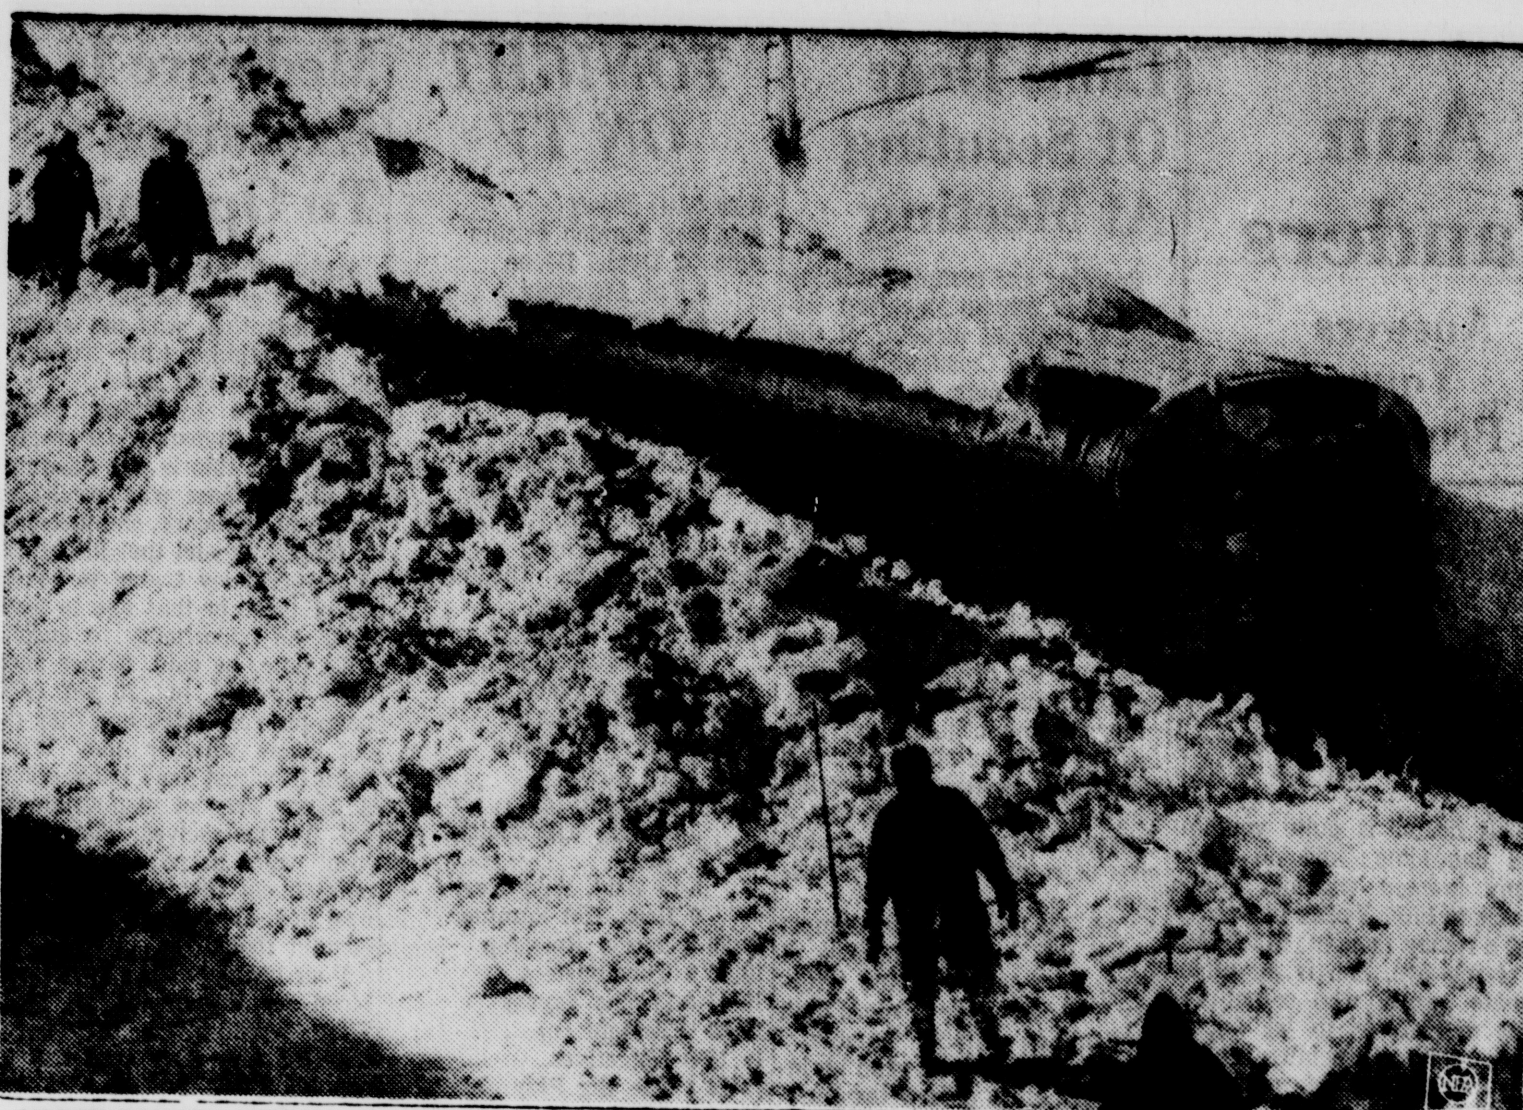

Gessner, a private first class, was a nuclear weapons specialist at Ft. Bliss, Tex., when he deserted Dec. 6, 1960, and went to Mexico City. The confession, introduced at his trial, said he met with officers of the Soviet Embassy on several occasions and gave them all he knew about mechanisms of atomic cannon. He was arrested in Panama City, Panama, March 23, 1961, and has been in custody since then — one year of it for desertion.

The confession, Gessner said, was obtained through coercion and fraud.

"A man tends to get justice in proportion to the thickness of his wallet and inversely to the power and prestige of the accuser," Gessner said.

He was reminded that his court-appointed attorneys received no fees.

"One swallow doesn't make a spring and one prisoner break-

World News In Brief

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Ghana's new military ruler, Lt. Gen. Joseph Ankrah, says his government wants firm relations with the United States and Britain and would welcome aid from the West and "even Russia."

Ankrah said his regime was not disturbed by the elevation of ousted President Kwame Nkrumah to the title of co-president of Guinea by President Sekou Toure of Guinea.

ing free through adequate counsel doesn't change things for the hundreds of thousands of other men still in prison because they were not adequately represented," Gessner replied.

Gessner's parents are divorced. His mother, Hazel Raymond, lives in Melbourne, Fla.

He said "the surrounding countries and neighboring countries with Guinea are confident that Guinea is just playing the fool."

Nkrumah, who was visiting Peking when he was overthrown, took refuge in Guinea last week.

LONDON (AP) — Britain has requested air base facilities from the island republic of Malagasy to help it keep an air watch for any tankers that might try to run oil to the breakaway government of Rhodesia.

A Foreign Office spokesman said the Malagasy government had not yet decided whether to grant the facilities. They would enable Royal Air Force scout planes to shadow any tankers using the Indian Ocean approaches to Portuguese Mozambique, 250 miles from Malagasy.

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro put his new center-left government to its second test today in the Chamber of Deputies and was certain to win confidence there as he did in the Senate.

The chamber scheduled a lengthy debate on the new Cabinet's program. The vote on the government that Moro formed Feb. 24 is expected next week. The Senate gave the Cabinet a 173-123 confidence vote Tuesday night, 24 over the required majority.

ROME (AP) — After months of investigation into Rome's chaotic traffic, the city's Urban Study Commission recommended today that an underground parking garage for 3,000 cars be dug beneath the huge white monument to the Unknown Soldier.

The big landmark on the Piazza Venezia is also known as the Altar of the Nation. Visiting statesmen place wreaths there. The proposal could touch off heated argument.

Secession Talks Is A Mere Whisper In Canada Today

QUEBEC (AP) — In French Canada today talk of secession or separation is little more than a whisper, but the visitor hears much about the "quiet revolution" and the "new Quebec."

Significant changes have taken place both inside the sprawling populous province and in its relations with the federal government.

Quebec's premier, Jean Lesage, 53, seeks to expand the role of his province and to improve the lot of the country's five million French-speaking citizens.

He has been careful not to go too far, too fast.

No one knows where it will end. Even Lesage declines to fix deadlines. So far Canada's 99-year-old confederation has proved flexible enough to adjust to Quebec's expanding autonomy.

One result of Lesage's moderate approach has been to steal much of the thunder of the separatists — those who want Quebec to be a separate nation.

The movement still has a substantial hard core, but it is not the noisy, aggressive group that launched terrorist bombings and marred the visit of Queen Elizabeth II by demonstrations 18 months ago.

The leadership of the separatists is split by personal bickerings and by rivalries between Montreal and Quebec factions.

Where they once cried for action, they now urge patience. But they haven't given up their goal of an independent Quebec.

Lesage opposes the separatists and he seems to have an overwhelming majority of the province behind him.

With a provincial election expected in May or June, political experts are predicting that Lesage's Liberal party will be returned with as many as 70 of the 95 legislative seats.

Lesage came to power in 1960 with a narrow majority, eight seats. He had vowed to give the province a dynamic new program after 16 years under the National Union party of Maurice Duplessis.

In 1962 he won the mandate he wanted when he won 64 seats to 28 for the National Union, headed by Daniel Johnson.

Lesage likes to use the word "revolution" to describe what has been happening in Quebec during the past six years. Sometimes he calls it a quiet revolution, sometimes a fast revolution.

"We are building a new society," he says.

Economic production has grown during his administration and Quebec is rapidly developing new industries and trade. More than 2,800 new businesses have been established in five years. This is one part of Canada where U.S. capital is eagerly sought.

Few quarrel with these achievements. Other elements in Lesage's program have caused unhappiness in Ottawa or provoked anxiety in the English-speaking community.

One development which some considered an encroachment on federal jurisdiction was the establishment of Quebec "diplomatic" missions in Paris, London and New York. The three bureaus, working independently of the federal government's missions in the same countries, push Quebec's cultural and economic interests.

Quebec has its own agreement with France for an exchange of students, teachers and researchers.

Even more irritating to English Canada is a practice under which the federal government permits the provinces to "opt out" of certain joint federal-provincial programs.

All provinces have this privilege of not taking part in joint programs, but it was initiated mainly to satisfy Quebec's demands for more autonomy.

Twelve federal-provincial pro-

Space Has No Role In Illnesses

EDITOR'S NOTE — The U.S. manned spaceflight program will be five years old May 5, anniversary date of Navy Capt. Alan B. Shepard's 15-minute space ride. Man proved then he could survive at least briefly in space, but what about long-term effects from exposure to that hostile environment?

By RONALD THOMPSON
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — When one of the nation's veteran astronauts suffers an illness or injury, the question arises: "Did it have anything to do with his space-flight?"

Thus far, space agency doctors have maintained: "Absolutely not."

This was the case when: the first American to venture into space, Navy Capt. Alan B. Shepard, developed an inner ear infection known as labyrinthitis, apparently from a virus. He suffered dizziness and impaired hearing, forcing him off flying status.

John H. Glenn Jr., first U.S. astronaut to orbit the earth, slipped and fell, slamming his head against a bathtub. He, too, developed labyrinthitis after the mishap, creating nausea, dizziness and loss of balance.

Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, whose flight followed Glenn's, crashed his motorcycle off a road in Bermuda, causing multiple injuries, including a compound fracture of his left arm.

Troubles came to the space-men in the general range of two years after their flights. Shepard flew in May, 1961, and first detected his problem in June, 1963. Glenn's flight was in February, 1962, and he fell in February, 1964. Carpenter, whose flight came in May, 1962, had his accident in July, 1964.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, the astronaut's doctor at the manned spacecraft center, said in an interview the three cases were not related and "had absolutely no connection with the space flight program."

Although still astronauts, Shepard, 42, and Carpenter, 40, are not on spaceflight status. Glenn, 44, has resigned from the space program.

Shepard's dizziness is gone, Berry said, but his hearing was slightly impaired. He can fly jet planes, but not alone, and heads the astronaut office at the space center.

When the compound fracture of Carpenter's lower left arm healed, it left him with partial loss of ability to rotate it. Surgery will be required to regain full rotation, Carpenter said.

Since Shepard took his 15-minute ride on May 5, 1961, 12 men have followed him into space. Three — Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, Air Force Col. L. Gordon Cooper and Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. — are two-time space veterans and candidates for Apollo moon missions.

All things considered, Berry said, those men who have blazed into space are "in excellent condition."

"But, no matter what happens to these guys for the rest of their life, the question will come up," he said. "If they get ingrown toenails, somebody will say it's a space ingrown toenail."

Berry recalls the general feeling of concern about Shepard's safety on America's first manned flight.

grams permit opting out. Quebec stays out of eight. This means it administers such programs as hospitalization, old-age assistance and health grants. Federal grants pay part of the costs.

"We want to grow in a manner which suits us," Lesage says. "We refuse to accept that ways of thinking and living be imposed upon us. We object to courses of action which do not take our own priority into account."

What Are the Signs?

Pitfalls Of Inflation Are Explored; Answers Given

EDITOR'S NOTE — Inflation is a household word as well as a political one. In this, the first of two articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, poses and answers questions bothering housewives as well as Washington policy makers.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The rising cost of living — and of doing business — has Americans wondering if they're in for another round of inflation. Or, as most probably would phrase it, if tomorrow's paycheck will buy even less than today's.

As government officials and businessmen debate the complex problem of inflation and what to do about it, here are some simplified answers to the questions many people are asking today:

Q — What is inflation?
A — To most people inflation is a persistent and substantial increase in the general level of prices. But many economists call this the end product of inflation, not inflation itself. They define inflation as the result of monetary policy: "too many dollars chasing too few goods."

Q — Do we have "too many dollars" today?
A — Bankers cite the unusual rise in the supply of money and credit since last summer and say that this has given businessmen and consumers the wherewithal to bid up prices of goods. Government officials contend the money increase was needed to feed the economic growth which cut the jobless rate to 3.7 per cent for the first time in nine years.

Q — How do you tell inflation from the price increases we've been having right along?

A — By how much and how fast prices rise. The cost of living for several years rose at about 1.2 per cent a year and was called noninflationary. But in 1965 the rate jumped to 2 per cent. Bankers call this 2 per cent rise inflationary. Washington officials say 3 per cent would be the danger point and that what we've been having is "economic growth" rather than "inflation."

Q — Would 3 per cent be a big jump, historically?

A — No. The last time we had what everyone agreed was inflation was in the Korean War period. Between June 1950 and March 1951 the consumer price index rose by an average of 0.8 per cent a month. More important to the economy, wholesale prices rose an average of 1.8 per cent a month.

Q — How is the wholesale price index behaving now?

A — After several years of being practically stationary, the index has jumped 4.6 per cent since June 1964. And the rise in recent months has been the steepest.

Q — Who are the first victims of inflation?

A — Those who live on fixed

"Always Fresher"
LOCALLY PRODUCED
LOCALLY PROCESSED
TULLIS-HALL MILK

incomes. These include the elderly and retired. Their pensions or Social Security checks buy less of what they need, and they can't hope for a pay increase to offset this. All savers are hurt, whether it be those who put money in banks, in insurance, or in bonds. When they use the savings, inflation has cut their market value just as if part of the savings had been stolen outright.

Q — Why do some enjoy inflation in its early stages?

A — Rising prices can bring rising wages, or capital gains on such things as common stocks, real estate and art objects. For a time inflation heats up the economy, makes more jobs for those producing more goods to be sold at the higher price. Business looks better, profits are higher — if worth less when spent. Then the bubble bursts and most folk discover they're worse off than before.

Next: What to do about inflation — and when to do it.

Mrs. John E. Crandon, Jr.

Miss Joyce Hainen Is Bride Of Mr. John E. Crandon, Jr.

During nuptial mass at St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Tipton, at 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 19, Miss Joyce Hainen, St. Louis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hainen, Tipton, and Mr. John E. Crandon, Jr., St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crandon, Parsons, Kan., were united in marriage. Double ring vows were solemnized by the Rev. Herbert Kramer, C. P. S., pastor.

Sister M. Alice accompanied Miss Vicki Dueber, who sang "Ave Maria," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy" and "On This Day," as the bride placed a bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Mother.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in gradenia white silk organza over taffeta and Alencon lace. The gown was designed with rounded neckline and elbow sleeves. Alencon lace motifs outlined the slender bodice and sleeves. The skirt was complemented by gathered fullness at the side with appliques of lace which were repeated on the full court cathedral train. Her imported Alencon lace veil was worn madonna fashion.

For "something old," the bride wore her late grandmother's engagement ring. Three white orchids, trimmed with miniature pearls and white velvet ribbon over a white bridal missal, comprised the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Jim Newkirk, Kansas City, matron of honor, and Miss Donna Hainen, junior bridesmaid, sister of the bride, wore matching dresses of burgundy rose velvet with matching lace veils, fashioned as the bride's in madonna fashion. Each carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and feathered carnations with pink velvet ribbon.

Mr. Benny Hainen, Jr., brother of the bride, served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Jim Newkirk, Kansas City; Mr. John Wirths, Tipton; Mr. Jim Owens, Springfield; Mr. Bill Hardie and Mr. Joe Heasley, both of St. Louis.

Serving as altar boys were Mr. Greg Hainen, brother of the bride, Mr. Robert Penny and Mr. Jack Schibi, cousins of the bride.

A reception was held at 1:30 p.m. at Keuper Center and dinner was served later in St. Andrew's dining room.

Miss Sharon Yontz presided at the reception table. Mrs. Jerry Hartman attended the guest book. Mrs. John Wirths and Miss Martha Proctor assisted at the gift table.

Among out of town guests, were Mr. and Mrs. Crandon, parents of the bridegroom, who were hosts to 35 dinner guests at Tipton Country Club, following rehearsal the evening preceding the wedding.

Following a brief wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the couple is residing in St. Louis.

Mrs. Leonard Franklin Chilcoat

Miss Margaret Louise Hamby Weds Leonard Franklin Chilcoat

Miss Margaret Louise Hamby, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Hamby, 1523 South Prospect, became the bride of Mr. Leonard Franklin Chilcoat, son of Mrs. Archie Chilcoat, 1401 East Fourth, at half past seven o'clock Friday evening, Feb. 25.

The Rev. Charles H. Griggs read the double ring ceremony before the altar of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. Two seven branch candelabra, entwined with emerald foliage and white satin bows, held white cathedral tapers. White candles were lighted and stood in chancel windows.

Mrs. Etta Wehrli played "Ave Maria" and traditional wedding marches at the organ. She was accompanist for Mrs. La Vera Griggs, who sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Mr. Ralph Coen lighted candles.

The bride's eldest brother, Mr. Robert Gene Hamby, escorted her to the altar, where she was given in marriage. The bride wore a ballerina length gown of silk mist taffeta and hand clipped Chantilly lace. The slender bodice was designed with long tapering sleeves and a scalloped Sabrina neckline. Lace overlaid the bodice and was repeated in crescent shaped motifs on the dome shaped skirt front. At the back, soft gathers added fullness, finished at the center waist with a flat fabric bow.

A circlet of silk petals held her bouffant shoulder length veil of silk illusion. She carried a white prayer book, to which was secured a bouquet of red roses and white feathered carnations.

Mrs. Carol Mahnken, Stover, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. Her pink nylon over net gown featured a lace bodice. She wore a pink veiled hat and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white feathered carnations.

Flower girl was Miss Lesa Gayle Hamby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamby, 316 North Quincy, a niece of the bride. Her brother, Master Gene Hamby, was ringbearer, carrying wedding bands to the altar on a white satin heart shaped pillow. Miss Hamby was attired in a full skirted blue satin and lace dress. Her headpiece was a velvet bow with veiling. She carried a white basket filled with rose petals.

Mr. Ted Griggs was best man. Ushers were Mr. Leo Mahnken, Stover, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and the bride's brother, Gerald Herbert Hamby.

A beige dress was selected by the bride's table at a reception censored with beige and black. The mother of the bridegroom wore an aqua suit with beige accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A large white wedding bell was streamered with blue ribbons and was suspended over the bride's table at a reception for 45 wedding guests in the church dining room after the ceremony. White lace over blue crepe covered the table. The three tiered cake was iced in traditional white. Punch was served. Silver candelabra holding three burning blue tapers centered the table.

Guests were served refreshments by Mrs. Darlene Coen, Miss Pamela Piers and Mrs. Shirley Hamby. Mrs. Wilma Gimple attended the guest book. Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Coen.

A corsage of red roses was taken from the bridal bouquet by the bride to wear with a blue and white three piece traveling costume. After a brief wedding trip, the couple is at home at 1401 East Fourth.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Smith-Cotton High School. Also a 1961 S-C graduate, the bridegroom attended David Ranken School of Mechanical Trades, St. Louis, where he was graduated in 1963. He is employed with Simmons Construction.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mahnken, Stover, and Mrs. Minnie Canada, Route 2, Lincoln.

Miss Linda Jean Walsh Marries David Eugene Baugher Feb. 12

The marriage of Miss Linda Jean Walsh and Mr. David Eugene Baugher took place at half past 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 12 at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church, Wheaton, Ill. Nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent John Cloos. He also solemnized double ring wedding vows.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Walsh, Wheaton, Ill., are parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Baugher, 812 West Seventh.

The church's main altar was set with arrangements of pink and white carnations.

The bride wore a white peau de soie gown with Chantilly lace bordering the neckline, skirt and jacket train. Crystals and mock pearls embroidered the bodice. A queen's crown of pearl and crystals secured the bride's three tiered silk veil. Her bouquet was of white roses, lily-of-the-valley and ivy.

Miss Eileen Brown, Glen Ellyn, Ill., was maid of honor.

Her gown was empire styled rose brocade and pink crepe. White bridal lilies fastened her shoulder length veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and sweetheart roses.

Bridesmaids, Miss Ellen Schultz, Chicago, Ill., and Miss Mary Kathleen Baugher, Sedalia, sister of the bridegroom, were attired in light blue taffeta and brocade gowns. Clusters of white roses were headpieces, fastening shoulder veiling.

Miss Kathleen Marie Walsh, wearing a long sleeved white lace trimmed pink dress, was flower girl. In her hair, she wore pink rosebuds. She carried a cascade bouquet of white and blue carnations.

Mr. Gerald Krause, Antigo, Wis., was best man. Head usher was Mr. David Terrill, Chicago, Ill. Also serving as ushers, were brothers of the bride, Mr. Terry Walsh and Mr. Timmy Walsh.

Blue ensembles were selected by the mothers of the couple to wear at the ceremony and reception-luncheon at American Legion Hall, Wheaton.

The couple spent two weeks in the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. The newlyweds are at home at 901 West Union, Wheaton, Ill.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is seeking to require nine new safety features on the cars, trucks and buses it buys.

The General Services Administration, announcing this Tuesday, also called for revisions in 11 of 17 safety standards adopted last year. The proposals would become effective with 1968 models.

In the past, government requirements have been incorporated by the automobile industry into vehicles sold to the general public.

New standards would include padded seat backs on school buses and other vehicles, recessed or relocated window and door controls, front seat headrests for protection against whiplash injuries and defoggers for rear windows.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lack of planning by the U.S. and South Vietnamese governments resulted in a "chaotic situation among the refugees" of Viet Nam last year, according to a Senate report.

The report issued Tuesday by a Senate Refugee subcommittee headed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., urged long-range programs in education, care of orphans and health; efforts to encourage more political action in refugee centers; and efforts to stimulate the South Vietnamese government "to end the lethargic attitude to refugees."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Ellis W. Williamson, just back from commanding the Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade in Viet Nam, said increasing numbers of Viet Cong guerrillas are surrendering.

Versatile Bomber On Last Mission

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The giant XB70A heads into the last phase of its useful existence soon with one of the world's most versatile test pilots assigned to salvage what he can from the by-passed billion-dollar bomber.

Joseph A. Walker, 45, holder of world speed and altitude records in the X15 rocket plane, has begun training to fly the 500,000-pound XB70A late this spring or summer.

As chief engineering test pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's research center here, Walker will do research aimed solely at aiding design of the upcoming supersonic transport — SST — even though the transport is likely to bear little resemblance to the XB70A.

In exclusive interviews, Paul Bikle, director of the NASA center, and Walker said they believe the SST research program, scheduled to last 18 months with the Air Force and NASA sharing the $35-million cost, will end the usefulness of the XB70A.

"We once were very hot on the idea of using the XB70A as a launching platform for the X15, which now uses the slower B52," Bikle said. "But we've found it just wouldn't be feasible. I don't see anything ahead for the XB70A after the SST research program."

When conceived more than a decade ago, the 185-foot XB70A was the prototype of a multibillion-dollar fleet designed to carry nuclear city-busters across oceans at 2,000 miles an hour at altitudes of 70,000 feet — beyond the reach of pursuit craft then flying.

Before it could be built, however, intercontinental missiles proved they could do the job faster and cheaper — and extremely fast fighters like the YF12A were developed which could shoot it down.

The XB70A was scrapped as an operational bomber and only two were built, at a cost of $1.2 billion.

Last year NASA put in a bid to share the two XB70A planes with the Air Force. As soon as the Air Force accepts them from North American Aviation, Inc., this spring, NASA will start using them for research.

"They are the only planes of that size flying at extreme speeds and altitudes," Bikle said. "The 4,000 m.p.h. X15 and the 2,000 m.p.h. YF12A are much smaller."

So Walker is taking time out from test-flying a stilt-legged lunar landing research vehicle to learn to fly 1,600 m.p.h. B58 bombers in order to qualify to pilot the XB70A.

Of the fact that he will never again fly the X15, in which he set records of 4,104 m.p.h. and 354,000 feet, Walker says: "Naturally, I regret it, but I can't have a foot in all the cockpits around here. Besides, who wants to get in a rut?"

NASA has installed $2 million worth of instruments on the XB70A. With these it will study:

1. Air friction on the plane's skin, which gets hotter than a kitchen stove (more than 600 degrees Fahrenheit). Unless controlled by insulation or refrigeration, such heat means discomfort for passengers and dangerous structural weakening.

2. Noise generated by the swift flow of air along the fuselage and wings. Louder than an automobile horn a few inches away, the noise must be quieted for passenger comfort and structural safety.

3. High altitude turbulence. This little known phenomenon can buffet a plane the way gusts toss a ship at sea.

4. Sensitivity of hydraulic controls. Wing and tail surfaces are too large to be controlled by human muscle alone; hydraulic pressures, many times greater than those which help a driver brake his car, move tail and wing flaps half a block away from the pilot's cabin.

Funeral services for Ben Marion Edwards, 24, native Sedalian, who was found dead Sunday at his home in Baytown, Tex., where he had resided a short time, will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Gillespie Funeral Home. The Rev. William Sutton will officiate.

Violin selections will be played by Harold Johnston.

Pallbearers will be: Harold Johnston, James Schmidt, Gordon Smith, Ora Edwards, James Cranfield, Bryan Shoemaker. Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

The body is at Reser Funeral Home, Warsaw.

Boys Club
Floor Plans
Reviewed

A meeting of the committee working on plans for the construction of the new Sedalia Boys Club and Youth Center building was held Wednesday afternoon in the Missouri State Bank building at which time preliminary floor plans for the building were reviewed. The plans call for a 14,418 square foot building and engineers estimates were discussed. The site excavation work is scheduled to start as soon as weather permits.

Jim Ripley, in charge of the kick-off banquet which will be held March 22, at the Gold Cafeteria, reported on the progress of his committee. The keynote speaker at the banquet will be Rev. B. Warren Neal, former pastor of Broadway Presbyterian Church.

J. S. Simon, campaign chairman, reported several large contribution commitments regarding this county wide facility for boys and girls has been made. He added that anyone desiring to contribute or pledge, either before or after the kick-off banquet should contact Bob Singleton, co-chairman, at TA 6-2633.

Enthusiasm for this project, said Bud Brown, president of the Sedalia Boys Club, is running high throughout Sedalia especially among the more than 1,000 boys who have belonged to the Sedalia Boys Club the past few years. They know what this means to the community. Brown said, for not since the old YMCA closed in the early 1930's has Sedalia had a facility like the one being planned.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 15 at 7:30 a.m. at the Gold Cafeteria, Thompson Hills Shopping Center. All committee members, directors, or anyone else interested, may attend.

Demo Plans
Punctured;
GOP Cheers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The promise of a bitter fight for the party's governorship nomination punctured Democratic plans for a peaceful primary today and cheered Republicans seeking political control of the nation's most populous state.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, seeking a third term, replied angrily to the challenge of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, who said Wednesday he will try to take the nomination away from Brown.

"I think he's in the wrong party's primary, but I accept the challenge," Brown told 2,500 Democrats Wednesday night at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in San Francisco.

Yorty, a maverick Democrat who supported Republican Richard M. Nixon for president in 1960, accused Brown's 7-year-old administration of "shoddy machine politics."

Republicans—themselves split by a fight for the GOP gubernatorial nomination—were heartened by the Democrats' squabble, something Brown had been hoping to avoid.

"This is one more indication of the division in Democratic ranks which has become very obvious in the past few weeks," said former San Francisco Mayor George Christopher, one of three candidates for the GOP nomination.

His major foe, actor Ronald Reagan, said Yorty's candidacy offers Democrats an alternative to Brown. He added it "might bring out once and for all the answer as to whether the incumbent really intends to be governor of California if he is elected."

William Penn Patrick, San Rafael cosmetics manufacturer and the third candidate in the GOP race, said "It is good to see that the Democrats have not swallowed Brown's hogwash." The governor said at the campaign dinner, "I warn Mr. Yorty right now that he will have to explain his record of attacks on Democrats like John F. Kennedy and his failure as mayor of Los Angeles."

The Loves Separate

SPRINGFIELD, MASS. (AP) — Cecil and Jewell Love were married on Valentine's Day 1953 by the Rev. Paul A. Fullilove. They were granted a divorce Wednesday in Hampden County Probate Court.

Mrs. Love filed for the divorce on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment.

were strung along the royal route.

Beatrice's wedding gown was of white satin in fitted "princess line" style with long sleeves and high neckline. The train, starting from the waist, was 15 feet long and seven feet wide.

She wore a short veil and the tiara of pearls and diamonds her grandmother Queen Wilhelmina wore when she married a German, Prince Hendrik, in 1900.

Mayor Gijsbert Van Hal, in pronouncing Beatrice and her choice man and wife, touched on the tenseness of the day and those ahead.

Speaking directly to the new Dutch prince, he mentioned the "many hours which were certainly not easy for you" and said: "I am certain that, as more people meet you and our nation comes to know you better, their confidence in you and respect for you will grow."

Europeans watched the ceremonies over television, in the countries covered by the Eurovision network.

The emphasis of the day was on youth, with three youthful reigning monarchs and their queens present. All were from countries occupied by Germany during World War II.

There were King Baudouin of Belgium and his Spanish-born Queen Fabiola, King Constantine of Greece and his Danish-born Queen Anne-Marie, and Baudouin's brother-in-law and sister, Grand Duke Jean and Grand Duchess Josephine Charlotte of Luxembourg.

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II was represented by Princess Marina, the dowager duchess of Kent, and her daughter and son, Princess Alexandra and Prince Michael.

Accidents

Slight damage occurred to both vehicles involved in a collision in the 100 block of West Fifth at 12:16 p.m. Wednesday.

Involved were a 1964 Pontiac, driven by Maxine Mola Griggs, 40, 1809 East 16th, and a 1961 Dodge, driven by George E. Roauls, 68, Route 4. Both cars were headed west on Fifth.

The left front of the Griggs car and the right front and side of the Roauls auto were damaged.

One person was slightly injured in a two-car collision in the 100 block of East Ninth at 3:48 p.m. Wednesday.

A 1964 Ford, driven by Jane L. Rabourn, 44, 129 East Booneville, was in collision with a 1961 Rambler, driven by Robert McCandless, 40, Smithton. Both cars were headed west on Ninth.

Damage was to the front and right side of the Ford and to the left rear of the Rambler. Also damaged were a flower planter and shrubbery owned by the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Mrs. Rabourn suffered a cut lip but did not require hospitalization.

Area Fires

Sweet Springs rural fire department was called to the Kenneth Jenkins home at Dunksburg at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday where a garage had caught fire from a trash blaze. The building was a total loss and many power tools, as well as a refrigerator and automatic washer were destroyed. The fire was reported by Fire Chief Elmer Miller.

Plan More
Rehearsals
Of Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts planned another long series of flight rehearsals today as their Tuesday launching date drew closer.

Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and David R. Scott and their backups will run through key phases of the countdown, launching and orbital flight. They also will practice emergency procedures in the Gemini 8 spacecraft atop a Titan 2 rocket.

The backup crew is Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr., and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr.

This so-called simulated flight exercise was expected to last until late at night.

The launch teams Wednesday successfully completed a complex simultaneous countdown involving an Atlas-Agena rocket and the Titan 2-Gemini combination. Only two minor problems developed.

The Atlas-Agena is to be launched at 10 a.m. EST Tuesday to propel the Agena into orbit as a target for Gemini 8, Armstrong, a civilian, and Scott an Air Force major, are to take off in pursuit at 11:41 a.m. and attempt to link up with the Agena.

On the second day of the planned three-day flight, Scott is to take a space walk of nearly 2½ hours.

Green Beret
Volunteer
Seeks Duty

CHICAGO (AP) — Sgt. I.C. George C. Bigley was killed in combat in Viet Nam with a green beret Special Forces unit. Now his son, Stephen, 17, wants to join the green berets there.

But not for vengeance, Stephen says.

"I don't feel mad in any way," the youth said. "I just want to do my part. I don't want anyone to think I'm going for my dad. I'm going over for everybody."

Bigley, who won his mother's reluctant permission to enlist, has been accepted for airborne training. His prime ambition, he said Wednesday, is to earn the right to wear the green beret, the symbol of the Army Special Forces unit to which his father belonged.

"My dad always wanted me to go to West Point," Stephen said. "But I don't have it in me anymore."

"I just want to prove to dad that if I can't make West Point I can still make it somewhere else. I'm not going to be a bum."

Stephen was living with his mother in a house trailer at Fort Campbell, Ky., when word came that his father had been killed Jan. 3, 1965, in a Viet Cong attack.

The family returned to Chicago and Stephen entered a local high school.

"I didn't like it," he said. "I had too much on my mind because of dad."

So he dropped out of school and enlisted.

His father, a veteran of Army service in many parts of the world, served in the Italian campaign in World War II. He was a member of Darby's Rangers, a paratrooper and an expert marksman. He held three Purple Hearts and three Bronze Stars.

"He was good at everything," his son said.

"I'm not for it," his mother said after her son passed his qualification tests. "But if that's what he wants."

Air Pollution Watch
631 Feet In Air

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago has a 631-foot-high electronic air pollution watcher.

A television camera has been installed atop the city's tallest building, the Civic Center, and begins operation today sweeping the horizon for clouds of pollution.

A spokesman for the Department of Air Pollution Control says the camera will flash signals to a monitor from its perch 631 feet above ground. The monitor will pinpoint the violation site and patrol cars will be sent there.

Disperse 200
In Parade In
N. Carolina

HERTFORD, N.C. (AP) — Authorities used tear gas and fire hoses to disperse about 200 Negro demonstrators Wednesday night.

Police said 30 persons were arrested for parading without a permit and released on $50 bond each. No injuries were reported. Three highway patrolmen were struck by flying objects, but none required treatment.

Hertford is an agricultural community of about 2,500 on the Perquimans River near the coast. It is 17 miles southwest of Elizabeth City. The area has a large Negro population.

The violence broke out as police loaded demonstrators on a prison department bus.

The march was called by civil rights leader Golden Frinks of Edenton to protest "the power structure's refusal to conduct good faith negotiations." Frinks was one of those arrested.

The Negroes are demanding a 14-point program, including the hiring of Negro policemen, deputy sheriffs and store clerks.

The Rev. F. L. Andrews, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Edenton, also arrested, said Negroes are "dissatisfied with the way Hertford and Perquimans County are responding to our recommendations."

Mayor V. N. Darden, who also is police chief, said the Negroes earlier in the day refused to ask for a parade permit, but later sought one.

"I told them it was too late then," he said.

The mayor called for police reinforcements when he said Frinks told him the protest march would be held "permit or no permit."

Thirty-one highway patrolmen, eight game protectors, five Hertford policemen, a deputy sheriff and two state bureau of investigation agents were standing by.

The fighting broke out shortly after 10 p.m. when the 200 persons marched out of the First Baptist Church, down the sidewalk and onto the main street.

Police arrested 30 marchers and told the others to return to their homes. When they refused, firemen, with three hoses ready, sprayed the crowd.

The Negroes hid behind buildings and began throwing things. The patrolmen, carrying long night sticks, moved into the middle of the fight and fired tear gas. The crowd dispersed.

Impossible?
Of Course!

We feel the same way about coffee. We don't believe one blend can satisfy every taste.

That's why we have three blends of A&P Coffee. Some like a mild, mellow coffee. That's our Eight O'Clock.

Some like a medium blend that's rich and full-bodied. That's our Red Circle.

Some like a strong blend that's vigorous and winey. That's our Bokar.

Each is a blend of the finest coffees of its type.

In fact, there are no finer coffees in any package at any price.

Sharp Eyes Required....

How are your eyes?

That's an interrogation that may well be asked frequently but particularly now on the occasion of observance of "Save Your Vision Week."

How long has it been since you had your eyes examined? Honest answers would disclose pronounced neglect of eyes by a large segment of the population.

Statistics reveal that inefficient vision is handicapping two out of three Americans in their jobs, and one out of every four children of school age has some kind of eye trouble.

What of visual deficiencies among those who drive automobiles? Certainly this is an area in which a number of different skills are required to pilot a motor vehicle. Depth perception is a factor in passing, parking turning and in practically every phase of driving. A motorist needs good side vision in order to observe cars or pedestrians approaching from right or left as well as vehicles about to pass.

Professional vision examinations should be of urgent concern to all individuals. But so often they aren't.

Certainly, the persons who drive motor vehicles are discovering how important their eyes are since the State of Missouri now requires eye tests with every license renewal.

This may turn out to be an unhappy experience for some senior citizens who let their vision go to pot rather than undergo professional eye examination.

But there are enough half-blind drivers on the road now including those reckless ones with 20-20 visual acuity.

Missouri law recognizes that our very lives may depend upon our good vision and our state has joined with many others requiring eye tests with driver license renewal.

That being so it is imperative the eye test requirement be enforced as another measure among many others to minimize the annual slaughter on the highways.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE: Decor by the Great Society.—Those bureaucrats think of everything. Tucked away in a bill amending the wages and hours law was a provision requiring householders to hang on the dining room wall a poster, 28 inches by 14, with 3,200 words of the text of the act. This was to apprise housemaids of their rights under the Great Society and to acquaint guests with the fidelity of the hostess to bureaucratic command.

Moreover, his poster wasn't to be any old color. It was to be dark green, with black printing. If the lady of the house didn't put it up, she was liable to six months in jail or $10,000 fine. She might protest that the poster wouldn't match the chintz and china, but reflection might convince her that even a dining room with a poster was more cozy than a cell.

The unknown author of this provision apparently gave no thought to the fact that most housewives don't have maids. In that event, the housewife presumably would be entitled to read the fine print herself to

Democratic 'Doves' Critical of LBJ

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Publicly President Johnson scored a resounding victory in the Senate debate on Viet Nam. But below the surface, scars are deep. Some of his most vigorous supporters of the Great Society program are bitter.

This was made all too clear at a closed-door meeting of "dove" senators who had previously signed the resolution proposed by Sen. Vance Hartke, Ind., urging peace in Viet Nam. Criticism of the Democratic president by Democratic senators at this session was vitriolic in the extreme. LBJ was called a "desperate man," a "wild animal" who was taking the country into war with China.

The meeting of Senate "doves"—all Democrats—took place just one day before the Senate was scheduled to vote on the resolution of Sen. Wayne Morse, Ore., to rescind the Bay of Tonkin resolution which, in the fall of 1964, gave Johnson an overwhelming endorsement for what was then a much smaller and less dangerous Viet Nam war. Though news and TV reporters got wind of the closed-door meeting and interviewed Sen. William Fulbright, Ark., at its termination, Fulbright was very restrained in what he said. He gave no hint of the emotional, vitriolic debate which had taken place inside.

First order of business was to try to persuade Sen. Morse not to proceed with his resolution. Other senators argued that the overwhelming majority of the Senate would line up against him and this would be considered a significant defeat for advocates of peace.

It was then proposed that another, milder resolution be introduced, putting the Senate on record against escalating the war. Such a resolution, it was argued, would get more votes than the more drastic Morse resolution.

Sen. Fulbright was against this strategy, argued that such a resolution would get only 15 or 16 votes and thus would be considered a great Johnson victory.

Emotional Criticism
Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota argued the other way. He maintained that it was better to get 15 votes than to make no test at all. Fifteen or 16 votes, he said, would be a big increase from the two votes expected for the Morse resolution and would be a warning to the president. McCarthy got quite worked up over the danger of war. "We've got a wild man in the White House," he said, "and we're going to have to treat him as such."

Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee was also critically emotional. He described the president as a "desperate man who was likely to get us into war with China, and we have got to prevent it. We all like the president, but we've got to stop him!"

Sen. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, differed with McCarthy, claimed it was better to avoid a showdown which the public could point to as a defeat for the "doves" and a victory for Johnson.

Bobby Kennedy agreed that the resolution against escalation of the war was desirable but was inclined to side with Fulbright that a showing of only 15 or 16 votes would not particularly impress the public or the president. The senator from New York was careful to steer clear of any strong language against the president. This was one of the few meetings where the brother of the late president has teamed up with Senate dissenters. Though frequently dissenting in the past, he has been a lone wolf.

Sen. Stephen Young of Ohio supported Gene McCarthy's view that even 15 or 16 votes against the president would be a healthy warning not to let the war get out of hand.

The meeting finally adjourned with no plans for a resolution. But the opposition expressed by these Democratic senators against their Democratic leader in the White House ran deep, and obviously will continue.

No Republicans attended the dove meeting, though several were in complete sympathy. One of these, Sen. George Aiken of Vermont, expressed his private view to Democratic senators that the president was headed for nuclear war with China.

Those attending the closed-door meeting, in addition to the senators mentioned above, included Quentin Burdick, N.D., Frank Moss, Utah, George McGovern, S.D., Ernest Gruening and E. L. Bartlett, both of Alaska, and Joe Clark, Pa.

War Against Rhodesia
It may be denied, but the British government has been talking seriously to the State Department about the possibility of using force against the white government of Rhodesia.

This is an unusual step which the labor government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson has long hoped to avoid. However, economic sanctions against Rhodesia are not working, chiefly because of help from the white government of South Africa. As of today, Prime Minister Ian Smith is stronger than he was before his break with London.

The British government meanwhile is under pressure from African members of the commonwealth to use force to protect the black majority in Rhodesia, now denied the right to participate in government. Prime Minister Wilson will hold off any action until after the elections March 31 and probably deny the matter is even under discussion until after that date.

However, plans for sending an expeditionary force to Rhodesia are definitely under consideration.

The Frightful Rush to the Cities

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — When pioneers like Daniel Boone felt that the settlements were getting too crowded, they moved on to the wide open spaces.

These days, the Daniel Boones are few and far between. There's a rush to the cities that is appalling, frightful.

The World Health Organization says: Over the last 100 years, mankind has doubled its numbers. But the world's city population has increased fivefold. Of the 3 billion people now living in this world, 1 billion live in cities. All this despite the well-known flight to the suburbs of those who can afford it.

The spectacular city growth alarms the WHO. It says: "Overcrowding, evil housing conditions, the spread of slums, the dwindling of parkland and open spaces, traffic paralysis, the accident toll, water pollution, time wasted on journeys between home and work — all these drawbacks and more hamper the New Yorker as much as the man from Calcutta."

The Greek philosopher Plato held that the ideal urban community should not be larger than 5,000.

Today, Plato would be saddened to read these population figures, from the 1966 World Almanac: Tokyo 10,686,660, New York 8,085,000, London 7,978,234, Shanghai 7,100,000, Moscow 6,335,000, Bombay 4,152,056, Peking 4,140,000, Sao Paulo 3,850,000, Buenos Aires 3,799,200 and Hong Kong 3,692,000.

The WHO cited figures on the overcrowding in calling attention to World Health Day, to be observed April 7.

It said: Paris leads in overcrowding, with 82,880 city dwellers per square mile, followed by Tokyo with 41,440, New York with 34,188, London with 26,667 and Berlin with 9,065.

Dr. M. G. Candau, director general of WHO, says that as much as one-third of today's city population is unhealthily crowded together in terrible slums.

In a World Health Day message, he said: "Many a person coming to the city from the country has to learn to put up with less space, less daylight, less fresh air, less greenery, more noise, but less liberty to make noise."

"Psychosomatic and neurotic disorders are undoubtedly largely associated with the congestion and noise, the hectic rhythm of city life, its vast anonymity and its many strident appeals to the individuals to do this or that."

"Furthermore, as a counterpoint to the glamour of the modern city, to its employment possibilities, its educational wealth and its cultural achievements, we have delinquency, crime, prostitution, alcoholism and the excessive use of drugs."

Maybe old Daniel Boone and ancient Plato were right.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.

Simple Way Is Not Expert

Correct play does not always produce the maximum number of tricks. All it can do is to produce the best possible total result over a long period of time. In other words, the expert plays by the year.

South's four-spade call was not one of those play-by-the-year bids. Most players would have bid either four diamonds or three no-trump. A four-diamond bid would have led to an easy five diamonds, a three no-trump call to an even easier no-trump contract.

Once South bid four spades North was interested in a grand slam. Hence, his bids of five clubs and five hearts to show those two aces but South realized that he had reached his limit when he bid four spades.

West might have opened a heart in which case South would have had to go down one trick but West made the apparently safe lead of the king of spades and South had a good play for his contract.

He needed to set up a third club trick for a discard of a heart.

The simple way to go about that would have been to play king-ace and a third club. This would win against a 3-3 club break. It would also win if the play of the king dropped an honor from either hand.

The simple way is not the best or expert way here. The expert way is to lead the three of clubs from dummy after drawing trumps and finesse the nine spot. If that wins there is no further problem. If it loses, you go back to dummy and finesse the clubs once more. This play wins as long as West does not hold both club honors. If he does, the expert comes out looking like a dunce.

Surgery Answer For Intestinal Angina

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Very little was heard about intestinal angina until about seven years ago. Like angina pectoris this is a painful condition caused by obstruction of an artery, in this case an artery supplying the intestines. The obstruction may be caused by a clot formation or by hardening of the artery and the deposit of fat and calcium in the arterial wall.

A person with this disease usually complains of abdominal pain and tenderness that comes on a few minutes after eating. The larger the meal, the more severe the pain. Because the victim avoids eating, there is a progressive loss of weight.

Bloating, nausea and constipation may also be present.

The diagnosis is made by introducing a radiopaque dye into the arterial system and getting X-ray pictures. Since this is not a simple procedure it is reserved for selected cases based on a careful evaluation of symptoms, physical examination and laboratory findings.

Once the disease is recognized a surgeon can use a plastic arterial graft to bypass the obstruction and reestablish circulation in the involved segment of the intestines. The reported results have been excellent. This marks another advance in blood vessel surgery.

Letter To The Editor

MRS. DONALD L. GRANT (Grant's Nestland Farm) Houstonia, Mo. — Your editorial of Saturday, March 5, asks "Who Cares If They Peek?", referring, of course, to our lack of a truly secret ballot in non-urban Missouri. The answer: EVERYONE SHOULD CARE! As your editorial indicates, our present balloting technique inhibits free voting. A voter should not be afraid to vote for a minority opinion in his community nor hesitate to choose between the candidacy of friends for fear of social, economic, or political reprisal. A secret ballot is essential for free voting. Your experience in having your vote revealed by someone other than yourself is not unique.

Voters know, or should know these facts:

1. A number is placed on the ballot and the same number is placed beside the voter's name in an official election book. Although the number on the ballot is covered with a sticker, the marked ballot can be identified with the individual voter.

2. The marked ballot is handled by individuals other than the voter before it is placed in the ballot box.

These shortcomings are totally unnecessary, and simple measures could be taken to correct them. It is amazing that we have for so long tolerated such an outmoded technique in handling our ballots. The State of Washington has a simple method of insuring a secret ballot for its rural voters. The ballot number is printed on a perforated corner of the ballot. After the voter has marked his ballot, he tears off the perforated number, hands it to an election clerk. The voter himself places his ballot in the ballot box. As the voter does this, the clerk calls out, "Ballot No. — has been cast," and the notation is duly made in the election book. There is no mark on the ballot which can identify the voter who cast it. Note also that only the voter handled his marked ballot before it went into the ballot box.

Is this not a simple change which could be made where voting machines are not in use? Balloting in the United States has had a hectic and evolutionary history from open voting in colonial times to machine voting in our modern urban areas. Why not make sure now that we have a secret ballot? May the time never come that we deeply regret not having made this change when we had the opportunity.

Let some readers have thoughts to the contrary, may I say that I was born in Missouri, am descended from pre-Civil War settlers in Missouri, grew up and was educated in Missouri, majored in Political Science at Missouri University, and am second to none in love of my home State.

Q—Can anything be done for an aneurysm in the abdomen?

A—An aneurysm or dilation of the wall of an artery occurs when the wall has been weakened by disease. This may occur anywhere in the body but is common in the abdominal aorta, especially if severe hardening of the arteries is present. All aneurysms are serious because of the threat of rupture. Modern surgery has, however, saved many victims by replacing or bypassing the diseased artery with a plastic graft. This operation requires a team of highly specialized surgeons.

Q—For the past 10 months I have been bothered with gagging when I get up in the morning. What causes it and what can I do to get rid of it?

A—The chief cause of gagging in the morning is dryness in the mouth and throat. It is common in persons who breathe through their mouths. It may also be due to nasal polyps or a deformity of the nasal septum. Sleeping in a room where the air is very dry is a causative factor and so is chronic sinusitis with a postnasal drip.

Try keeping a glass of water by your bed and drinking a little before you get out of bed in the morning. Using a humidifier in your bedroom might help. Also you might have a nose and throat specialist examine you for a disease of the nose, throat or sinuses.

Democrat Pick-ups

SITTING DOWN at the table at a civic club, the man, after a few minutes noted the bowl of French salad dressing near his plate.

"Was somebody else sitting here?" he questioned of the man across the table, halfway ready to get up.

"No," said the other man. "What's this doing here — is this somebody's?" he asked touching the edge of the bowl.

"No, that is dressing for the salad," he was told.

"Oh," explained the man, "I thought it was a bowl of vegetable soup."

So now we have a suggestion. Maybe it would be a good idea to label the salad dressing—another civic group had trouble, too. Some of their members thought it was gravy and put it on their potatoes. It's time to do something to identify the French dressing.

And one time at a woman's club they served gravy in a bowl which some of the women didn't recognize—it almost got on the salad, when someone discovered it was gravy.

This town needs an educational program on foods or one on what type of containers to serve what—or maybe just to be sure, labels in big letters, so people, even without their glasses will know the difference between soup, gravy and salad dressing.—H.L.

Networks Busy With Schedules

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The three major television networks are now in the midst of setting up schedules for next fall. Already the publicists are beating their drums to excite us about all the delights in store — six months ahead.

Very little, by comparison, is being said about what has come to be known as "the summer rerun season," which starts under normal circumstances, television is very sensitive about utterances of members of the Federal Communications Commission, which controls the licensing of broadcasting, sometime next month.

Maybe the networks were not listening attentively. Anyway, this summer's sleepy time looks pretty much like any other. Out of close to 100 evening programs, all but 11 will be repeating shows.

CBS' "What's My Line?" on Sundays will, as usual, stay with new shows all through the warm weather. On Monday night, singer John Davidson will star in a variety show to replace Andy Williams on NBC; Art Linkletter's "Hollywood Talent Scouts" will continue with new material, and ABC's "Avengers," a British import that does not replace "Ben Casey" until the end of this month — will have fresh stories.

Red Skelton on CBS Tuesdays will have a substitute in "Hippodrome," a collection of circus acts. John Gary, the singer who has become almost a regular on "The Danny Kaye Show" will take over that CBS hour for the season on Wednesdays.

The comedy team of Rowan and Martin have the hour show of Dean Martin (no relation) on NBC Thursdays, and "Mona McCluskey" will be replaced by a half-hour musical show called "Mickie Finn's." "The Baron," another new British import on the ABC, will have story lines not previously seen by American audiences.

There will be "Court-Martial," still another British-made series on ABC Fridays, replacing Jimmy Dean's hour. And on Saturday, a variety hour will be cooked up so that Jackie Gleason can have the summer off.

Lucille Ball, who usually is replaced by a collection of unsold comedy pilots, will be on reruns from late March to the end of June, and then be spelled by repeats of "Fair Exchange," a short-lived series of another year. Ed Sullivan will drop a few new shows amid a cluster of repeats.

And for the rest — once again, it will be the same tired summer story. Maybe Henry should have saved his breath.

Christian Service Women Of Smithton In Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Smithton Methodist Church met March 3, in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Delegates selected to attend the annual WSCS Conference to be held in Joplin March 23-25 are Mrs. Louis Hubbard and Mrs. William Ratje.

The district meeting which will be held April 29 at the Wesley Methodist Church in Sedalia, was also announced.

Mrs. William J. Lamm, president, conducted the meeting and a letter from the district president, Mrs. Brookie Hufnagel, was read.

Mrs. Audrey Neumeyer, who is secretary of Christian Social Relations, gave an article on controversial issues that should be supported by WSCS: equal opportunities for all races, conservation of natural resources, poverty program, alcohol, minimum wage law, the Protestant issue on family planning, and others.

Mrs. Robert McCandless gave a report on the World Day of Prayer held at the Christian church, the number attending and the amount of the offering.

Mrs. William Ratje concluded the study on Acts and large shields made and painted by Mrs. Clarence Hiltner with emblems on them by which the apostle they represent could be recognized. As members displayed the shield she told of the drawing on it of that particular apostle. Members participating were: Miss Laura Kruse, Mrs. Leonard Semkin, Mrs. Golder Luetjen, Mrs. Blye Woolery, Mrs. McCandless, Mrs. Frank Page, Mrs. Audrey Neumeyer, Mrs. Louis Hubbard, Mrs. Hiltner, Mrs. Raymond Demand, Mrs. Cecil Smith and Mrs. Charles Jaquet. Miss Kruse closed the study with a poem, "The Master's Men."

Mrs. Lamm dismissed for the noon lunch with prayer. The Esther Circle, with Mrs. George Meyers and Mrs. Harry Henderson as chairmen hostesses for the day.

A prayer card with Sallman's head of Christ on the front were place cards.

Mrs. Millard Wagenknecht, at the organ, played the call to order for the afternoon's program under the direction of Mrs. Sheldon Smith. Mrs. Walter Baxter and Mrs. Bob McCandless.

Mrs. William Green, accompanied by Miss Laura Kruse, sang a solo, "Above the Cross of Christ."

Mrs. McCandless gave the introduction of the theme for the program, "The Christian Outreach." Mrs. Smith read the Scripture lesson and a playlet representing different nationalities effected by the Christian outreach was given with Mrs. Raymond Demand representing Sweden; Mrs. Lloyd Lewellan, English; Mrs. Walter Baxter, Czechoslovakia; Mrs. Frank Page, India and Mrs. Hiltner, French.

A picture based on the races of mankind entitled: "We are all Brothers," was shown by Rev. Louis Hubbard with Mrs. McCandless as narrator.

Mrs. Smith closed the program with prayer.

A picture on the life of Albert Schweitzer and his experiences in Africa will be shown Palm Sunday evening, April 3, at the church.

Mrs. H. Branson Discusses Work Of Missionary

Mrs. H. N. Branson was program leader for Women's Association of Broadway Presbyterian Church, which met March 3 in the educational building for contributive luncheon. The speaker discussed the work of the Rev. E. Weston with Indians of the northwest, and his approach to the problem of illiteracy there.

Jean Bellerjeau Circle was hostess group. Irish shamrocks and green candles decorated tables.

President Mrs. Richard Parkhurst thanked the hostess group. She also recognized Mrs. Clyde Heynen and Mrs. John Zulauf for providing transportation to meetings for Golden Agers.

Members reported on visits to rest homes. Mrs. Lucille Blake read a letter from Mary Alice and Charles Jordan of Ethiopia. The Jordans, she explained have visited previously in Sedalia. Lenten dinners were discussed.

Ruth E. Wilson will be hostess to the group at the April 7 meeting.

LaMonte Wins Game After Over-Time; Action Is Hot

In Wednesday evening's final two games, the LaMonte squad sweated out a 63-62 victory over the Kansas City Red Birds but needed an overtime to do it.

LaMonte staged a come-from-behind effort in the last minutes of the fourth period to tie the game and outscored the Red Birds 6-5 in the extra period.

LaMonte led the Red Birds by six points going into the second half, but were outscored by five points in the third period and one point in the fourth. Wharton led LaMonte's attack with 20 points while Gardner paced the Red Birds with 15.

In the final first round contest, the Kasper Aces of Kansas City outdistanced Eugene 72-65 in an exciting game.

The lead changed more than a dozen times in the first period and the scoring for the period was 16-15 in favor of Eugene. The Aces put the game temporarily out of sight in the second period by scoring 26 tallies while limiting Eugene to ten. However Eugene closed the gap somewhat in the third quarter by pushing in 20 points to Kansas City's 12.

Eugene pulled up to Aces in the final period and took the lead with five minutes left to play. But then three Eugene players fouled out and the Aces went ahead to stay.

Big 8 Grapplers Meet

3-Cornered Fight For League Title

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—It will be a three-cornered battle between Oklahoma State, Oklahoma and Iowa State for the Big Eight wrestling title Friday and Saturday at Kansas State's Ahearn Fieldhouse, and the coaches don't mind putting the other guy on the spot.

"I think any of us could win it," said Tommy Evans, Oklahoma coach.

"I think any of us could win it," said Tommy Evans, Oklahoma coach. Iowa State's veteran coach, Harold Nichols, is keeping his predictions to himself. His team upset OSU's Big Eight champs 87-86 and the NCAA title last year and the award as "Coach of the Year." OU was fourth in the NCAA.

The Big Eight's 1-2-4 finish last year in the national meet wasn't a record. In 1964 it was 1-2-3-4.

The Big Eight champ isn't a cinch to win the NCAA, oddly enough, even though present league members have taken 30 of 34 NCAA team crowns.

The Big Eight runner-up has taken the NCAA three times in the past seven years. It could happen again this year in Nationals at Iowa State March 24-26. The league results are vital in seeding for the nationals, however, and competition is just as fierce in the league meet.

It's no wonder the Big Eight meet is termed the "Little NCAA."

Roderick's team rates a narrow favorite on paper with OU second and Iowa State third. Colorado rates No. 4, K-State is No. 5 with Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas far back.

OSU has three defending champs, Oklahoma one and Iowa State one. OSU landed three men on the first team All-America picked at mid-season by Amateur Wrestling News and four more on the third team.

OU, OSU and Iowa State combined had 17 on the first three teams, one more than the rest of the nation combined.

Greg Ruth, 167, of Oklahoma. Tadaaki Hatta, 115 of OSU and Yojiro Uetaka, 130, of OSU are the floor for the third quarter and tossed in 18 points against their opponents' 7 to grab a 35-30 lead. It was a nip-and-tuck fourth quarter, but Marshall was unable to get going and as a result scored only 12 points against Sedalia's 16.

Thus the Sedalians moved into the quarter finals.

Score by quarters:
Marshall 7 16 7 12—42
Sedalia 12 5 18 16—51
Individual scoring: Marshall—R. Lewis, 6-4-16; L. Gilbert 3-0-6; L. Breshears 1-2-4; T. Malters 5-5-15; R. Heying 0-1-1. Sedalia Independents—Homan 5-0-10; B. Lange, 3-9-15; H. Reichert 3-0-6; M. Gerke 1-0-2; Gladback 3-2-8; J. Fall 3-4-10.

The second game of the Wednesday night schedule was won by a Columbia team, the Coronados, who moved from behind in the first quarter and completed the remaining three stanzas in a lead over the Hangout Club of Whiteman Air Force Base, to win 74-56.

Actually the score does not tell a true story of the game as the teams switched the lead in the first quarter and again in the second when Columbia put on a 24-point scoring spurt. The teams battled up and down the court but the Hangout group was just unable to come up to par to stop Columbia.

Columbia came to town with an array of stars, among them Ned Monsees, who incidentally was the high scorer of the game with 14 goals and one free throw for 29 points. His chance as he missed seven out of eight tries. Then there were C. Rudd, All-Big-Eight star; Vince Turner, property of the New York Jets football team; and R. Cox, who leaves soon to go into spring training with the Pittsburgh Pirates and to join a Triple-A ball club for the summer.

Score by quarters:
Coronados 16 24 14 20—74
Hangout Cl. 14 17 9 16—56
Individual scoring: Coronados—R. Cox 0-1-1; G. Otto 2-4-8; W. Fewell 1-0-2; N. Monsees 14-1-29; V. Turner, 3-0-6; O. Monsees 5-3-13; and C. Rudd 7-1-15. Hangout Club—R. Thomas 1-1-3; Slocum 6-4-16; L. Husong 3-1-7; B. Homrig 1-0-2; B. Asher 11-0-2; and S. Powers 3-0-6.

Four Big Games In Cage Tourney

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Four big battles take place tonight in the quarterfinal round of the National Association of Intercollegiate athletics (NAIA) basketball tournament.

The feature contests will likely be Rockhurst, Mo., versus Grambling, La., a battle of former tournament champions, and defending champion Central State of Ohio versus Norfolk, Va., State.

Whiteman AFB Expands; New Bowling Alley

Whiteman Air Force Base recreation facilities have expanded and the new bowling alley was opened the first of the month according to Lester L. Pelzel, Recreation Service Director announced.

Col. Donald H. Merten, base commander, opened the new 10-lane area by rolling the first ball. He pleased the gathering of bowling enthusiasts by picking up a spare.

The new orange and white bowling alley has all new equipment. This includes 10 lanes, the latest and best in Brunswick A-2 Pinspotters, Subway Cluster Ball Returns, Tel-E-Score units, Score King Bowling Pins and Brunswick Gold Crown equipment.

In addition, the new alleys will have 100 new rental lockers and spectator seats. The remainder of the new bowling alley is scheduled to open in approximately two weeks. It consists of a new snack bar, office, storage area, rest rooms and locker area.

of Tulsa both 17.4 and Warren Armstrong of Wichita 17.0. Behind Hammond in field shooting were Unseld 5.82, Sam Ulrich of St. Louis 5.62, Eddie Whitehead of Louisville 5.10, Dillard 4.94 and Thompson 4.89. In foul shooting Pete was second at .783, Thompson had .782, Tom Campbell of Bradley .769, Russell .761, Armstrong .727.

Parks with 12.9 was second in rebounding, while Armstrong had 12.8, Eugene Moore of St. Louis 11.4, Allen 10.3, Hammond 9.5 and John Howard of Cincy 9.3.

Illinois Wesleyan plays Georgia Southern and Oklahoma Baptist meets Carson - Newman, Tenn., in the other game.

Top-seeded Central State had to come from behind twice to defeat unseeded Lakeland, Wis., Wednesday night, 72-68. Lakeland led at halftime 37-35, and after trailing as many as nine points midway in the final half, came up to gra ba 66-65 lead with 4:20 remaining. Two field goals by Kenny Wilburn and a free throw by Don Rather pulled out the victory for Central.

Norfolk State had an easier time, but also had to come from behind. Athens, Ala., jumped off to a 13-point lead early in the game, but Norfolk, led by Essex Thompson, roared back with deadly shooting and deomina- tion of the backboards to win 103-81.

Al Payne moved into the post and scored 33 points to lead Rockhurst to a 98-87 victory over Albuquerque, N.M. Payne received 25-point help from regular center Pat Caldwell.

Grambling outshot a cold Carroll, Mont., College team for a 95-86 victory. The tall Tigers from Louisiana hit 42 of 71 from cent.

Georgia Southern, fourth-seeded, breezed to an 80-62 victory over Southern State of Arkansas. The Eagles were never headed as Jim Seeley led with 18 points.

Led by Al Tucker's 36 points, Oklahoma Baptist upset sixth-seeded Central Michigan 90-70. Carson-Newman broke the century mark, rolling over Morris Harvey, W. Va., 103-74, behind Jim Shuler's 36 points.

Terrell Doesn't Like Terms

Dramatic Announcement Puts Fight In Question

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A dramatic midnight announcement by Ernie Terrell in a police station has once again put the Terrell-Cassius Clay world heavyweight championship fight in the doubtful category. Will it or will it not be held in Toronto March 29?

"As of now the fight is off," Terrell said in rejecting the terms of the new contract sent him by the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto where the fight apparently had found a home. It had been turned down in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Montreal, the state of Vermont and Verdun, Quebec.

Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, balked at the provisions in the contract which he said would make him controlled by the Maple Leaf Gardens and commit him to a return bout with George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, in June.

"If they would send a contract with me just fighting Clay and no other clauses, then I would fight Clay tonight and for thirty cents," Terrell said in the city room of the Atlantic City Press where he dictated a statement late Wednesday night.

He made his "the fight is off," statement later from the police station in nearby Ventnor, N.J., where he had gone to avoid telephone calls.

"This new contract makes it impossible for me to go through with the fight on these terms," Terrell said. "In the original agreement I had a guarantee of $50,000 from the live gate and $100,000 from the ancillary rights on closed-circuit television, and $12,500 was to be paid for training expenses.

"In this new contract there is no guarantee and I haven't received any expenses. And Maple Leaf Gardens wants me to sign a contract where I would have to fight George Chuvalo two months later for the Gardens in Toronto with the ancillary or closed-circuit promoters."

Terrell outpointed Chuvalo in a 15-round Nov. 1 in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. "Why should I fight him again?" asked Terrell, adding, "I'm not against fighting Chuvalo, but I want it on my terms."

Harold Ballard, executive vice president of Maple Leaf Gardens, said in Toronto that there would be no fight unless the winner agrees to meet Chuvalo.

"I'm not signing anything until Clay and Terrell agree to the terms, including a defense against Chuvalo in June," Ballard said. "If they don't agree, there's no fight here March 29."

"Tough. That's just too bad," Terrell commented. "I didn't give the power of attorney to anyone," he added when told of Ballard's comment that Robert Arum, an officer of Main Bout, Inc., of New York, which owns the ancillary rights, had power of attorney to sign a contract for both Clay and Terrell "and he has signed the contract."

In New York, a spokesman for Main Bout said, "We knew Terrell was dissatisfied, but as far as we know this matter was supposed to have been straightened out."

Meantime, Terrell said, he will continue to train at nearby Pleasantville, N.J.

There was no immediate comment from Clay. The champion was on his way from Miami to New York.

Quarter-Final Games Set For Tonight

Four quarter-final games are scheduled to be played in the Lions Tournament tonight at the Smith-Cotton gymnasium.

6:45 p.m. — Houstonia vs. Columbia Heidelberg.

8 p.m. — Warrensburg vs. Kasper Aces of Kansas City.

9:15 p.m. — Sedalia vs. LaMonte.

10:30 p.m. — Columbia Coronados vs. Columbia Hurricane Travelers.

Wills Now At Babe's League

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Maury Wills never has hit 60 homers, knocked in 170 runs or batted .393. Nevertheless, he's reached Babe Ruth's class.

General Manager Buzzie Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers confirmed Wills' status Wednesday in discussing the salary the flashy stopstop will receive this season.

Asked how much he offered Wills, Bavasi replied:

"I can't tell you, but it'll be as much as Babe Ruth ever got."

Ruth's top salary with the New York Yankees was said to be $80,000.

Wills, however, wasn't on hand to hear about his step up in class. He hadn't reported to the Dodgers' spring training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., following his return earlier this week from Japan where he toured with his night club act.

In Los Angeles, however, Wills was quick to decline a step up to the class of teammates Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, the dynamic duo who are holding out for matching of three-year, $500,000 contracts.

"I'm not worth that much," said the 33-year-old base-stealing wizard.

Wills didn't say how much he thought he is worth, but at one time he said he would seek $100,000.

The Dodger captain, incidentally, never has hit more than six homers in one season, knocked in more than 48 runs and batted higher than .302. He has, however, stolen 104 bases in one season.

Ruth never stole more than 17.

Wills, of course, wasn't

Hutchinson Wins Tournament Berth

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP)—Hutchinson won a berth in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament Wednesday night by defeating Independence 70-66 in the Region 6 playoff.

The national tournament is at Hutchinson next week.

Richard Dumas of Independence scored 25 points and Terry Stratman of Hutchinson had 16.

Hutchinson won the first game of the best-of-three series Monday night, 76-65.

around as the Dodgers continued their warmups for their exhibition season, which starts Saturday. The spring's first exhibition contests were scheduled for today.

In intra-squad games Wednesday, Norm Cash lashed a home run and a single for Detroit, driving in four runs; John Lewis and Dick Stuart each rapped three hits for the New York Mets and Matty Alou collected three singles for Pittsburgh.

Boog Powell knocked in four runs with a homer, double and single for Baltimore while Bob Rodgers and Rick Reichardt each socked three-run homers for California with Rodgers driving in a total of six runs.

Gardner Is Missed In Some Areas

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
Four Big Eight basketball records were established this season—one by Colorado's Chuck Gardner, one by the champion Kansas Jayhawks and two by the league's dead-eye shooters.

Gardner's 42.39 scoring rampage in his last two games knocked Nebraska out of a title tie and deprived Walt Wesley of Kansas of a second straight league scoring crown by one point—284-283. Missouri's Ron Coleman was a close third at 281. Gardner averaged 20.3.

This much was obvious. Unnoticed was Gardner's rapid climb in other categories. He was second in rebounding with 10.1 a game to 13.3 by Iowa State sophomore Don Smith. Gardner's .538 field shooting mark was second only to the .619 by Rodger Bohnstiehl of Kansas. In free throw shooting, Gardner zoomed up to fourth at .759.

The 1-2-2-4 finish by the 6-7 red-haired senior is the best since the conference started keeping rebound records. Clyde Lovellette, Kansas '52, and Bob Boozer, K-State '59, might match or surpass Gardner if complete records were available.

Kansas led the league in scoring with 78.3 points a game and in defense by yielding only 59.6. The Jayhawks' point spread of 18.7 is the best ever, surpassing the 18.5 point spread by K-State's 1959 club.

The entire conference shot .425 from the field, breaking the record of .413 in 1963; and the scoring average for the league of 69.59 a game broke the mark of 68.04 set last season.

Bohnstiehl with his .619 shooting set another record; but it requires an asterisk because he made only 52 goals. The record of .603 by Milt Mueller of Colorado in 1963 was determined on a basis of at least 56 goals or four a game.

Mueller was 76-for-126 that season, Bohnstiehl 52-for-84 as Wesley's back-up man, remarkable for a part-time performer. Other scoring leaders were Don Sidle of Oklahoma 19.5, Willie Rogers of Oklahoma 17.3, Smith 17.1, Grant Simmons of Nebraska 16.3, Tom Baack of Nebraska 15.9, Nate Branch of Nebraska 14.4, Al Lopes of Kansas 13.9, Jim Feamster of Oklahoma State 13.1, Bob Ziegler of Iowa State 12.8, Earl Seyfert of K-State 11.6 and Chuck Williams Colorado, 11.1.

Wesley's 9.8 rebound average was third best. Sidle had 9.1, Charlie Rudd of Missouri 8.2, Rogers 7.7, Stuart Lantz of Nebraska 7.3, Lopes 7.1 and Raul Duarte of Iowa State 7.0.

Rich Milling of Missouri was a surprise leader in free throw accuracy at .800, with Baack at .790, Ziegler .762, Lopes and Delvy Lewis of Kansas both .750. Seyfert was No. 3 in field shooting at .533, Ziegler had .515, Williams .508, Wesley .497, Feamster .492 and Smith .480.

The other team leaders included Nebraska in field accuracy, .442 to .441 over Kansas; Oklahoma in free throwing, .694 to .678 over OSU, and Kansas in rebounding, .575 to .534 over Iowa State.

Hull Looks For 51st Goal Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull still is looking for his record-breaking 51st goal today and Chicago Black Hawk Coach Reay is just looking for any kind of goal.

Hull, who tied hockey's equivalent to Babe Ruth's 60-home-run record last week, was held to only two shots on goal by the close-checking New York Rangers Wednesday night as the Hawks suffered their third straight shutout, 1-0.

Earl Ingarfield's third-period goal won it for the Rangers, who have lost only one game in their last nine.

Hull still has 10 games in which to break the record he shares with retired Montreal stars Maurice Richard and Bernie Geoffrion but both he and the Hawks apparently are getting edgy about it.

"There's a lot of pressure for that 51st," the muscular star admitted after the game. "It's hurting the team I think. I'll be glad when it's over."

So will Reay, who's watched the Hawks struggle through 185 minutes, 58 seconds of scoreless hockey since their last goal. "The pressure was for 50 goals. It shouldn't be bothering them now," he said.

Hull spent 28 minutes on the ice chasing that elusive 51st goal but the closest he came was on his first turn when a shot off defenseman Pat Stapleton's stick struck his shoulder and bounced off the post.

Linstrom Will Head Program

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes announced today Robert C. Linstrom of St. Louis has been appointed to head a statewide program on aging in the office of urban affairs.

Missouri's plan for the aging has received federal approval, making the state eligible for about $100,000 in federal funds for grants to local community programs.

Linstrom, formerly with the Health and Welfare Council of metropolitan St. Louis, will be aided by a 28-member advisory task force. It will be headed by Rep. F. E. (Buck) Robinson, D-Knox County.

At the same time Philip V. Maher, administrative assistant for urban affairs, announced Missouri has received federal poverty program grants of $1,832,205 since Jan. 1. This is a 33 per cent increase over the average grants last year.

The money is being used in head start programs for preschoolers, Medicare alert programs, remedial reading, home management aides, dairy management education and program development.

All counties in the state now are participating in 24 community action corporations, making Missouri one of the first states to be set up on a statewide basis.

Mee Appointed For Prosecutor's Role

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes announced today the appointment of Jerry Mee of Springfield as prosecuting attorney of Douglas County. He is a Democrat. He succeeds Gladys B. Stewart, Ava Republican, who resigned.

Tax Deadline For People Who Get Tips

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Employees in Missouri have an important tax deadline on the 10th day of every month.

This is the last date for all employees who received cash tips of $20 or more last month to report them to employers for tax withholding purposes, District Director of Internal Revenue E. O. Bookwalter, said today. IRS Form 4070 may be used for this purpose.

New laws passed in 1965 require all employees receiving $20 or more in cash tips a month to report them to their employers by the 10th day of the following month. This tip income now counts toward Social Security and Railroad Retirement benefits.

Mr. Bookwalter said that the Revenue Service has available upon request a pocket-sized booklet to help those taxpayers required by law to report income from tips to their employers every month.

The booklet explains the law's requirements, provides space to record each day's tips for 12 months, and has over a year's supply of the Forms 4070 needed to make monthly reports of tip income to employers.

The booklet on tips is Document 5635, "Employee's Daily Record of Tips and Report of Tips to Employer" and may be secured by employees from your local Internal Revenue Service Office. Employers, unions and other organizations may obtain bulk quantities of the booklet for distribution by writing to the Forms Section, P. O. Box 4570, St. Louis, Missouri, 63199.

The Revenue Service also has available a new pamphlet, Document No. 5640, "Reporting Your Tips For Federal Tax Purposes," which may be secured by employees from your local Internal Revenue Service Office. Employers, unions and other organizations may obtain bulk quantities of booklet for let for distribution by writing to the Forms Section, P. O. Box 4570, St. Louis, Missouri, 63199.

A California conciliation court estimates that divorces affect 300,000 children a year.

Interview Firms For Turnpike Studies

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Kansas Turnpike officials are interviewing prospective engineering firms about preparing a feasibility study on three proposed turnpikes in the state.

Representatives of two firms met with turnpike officers in Topeka Tuesday and talks are planned in the near future with at least two other firms.

A turnpike spokesman has said such studies are expected to cost about $240,000.

The highways would run north-south along the eastern Kansas border; from southeast Kansas to Wichita, and from Wichita to the northwest portion of the state.

Accused Assassins Escape Firing Squad

HAVANA (AP) — Four men accused of plotting to assassinate Fidel Castro apparently have escaped the firing squad through an appeal from Castro to spare their lives.

Prosecutor Jorge Serguera switched his demand from death to 30 years' imprisonment for the four after telling the five-man military court that Castro had asked him not to seek the death penalty.
